By Dick Jemison.

"Be a Booster."

"Absolutely."

"Atlanta Always Ahead."

"Beat Birmingham or Bust."

"Hello, People."

These and similar slogans will be in evidence on signs, streamers, banners, pennants, megaphones, horns, bells, artillery and all other instruments of noise-producing and attention-attracting devices today, as Atlanta makes ready for the opening baseball game of the season at Ponce de Leon park today.

Atlanta is after the opening day attendance trophy again today. This trophy is offered by President Robert H. Baugh, of the Southern league, to the city that has the largest paid attendance opening day. Four cities, New Orleans, Mobile, Nashville and Memphis, had a fling at it yesterday. The other four, Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga and Little Rock, will have their inning today.

Atlanta won this trophy in 1913, Birmingham won it in 1914, with the fight for the trophy this season between these two cities, with New Orleans to be figured in the running until the final count and award is made.

It will take between 10,000 and 15,000 fans at the ball park today to win the trophy for Atlanta. Estimates of fans of the city range between those figures, and everyone is confident of Atlanta's ability to protect her interests.

ATLANTA NOW BASEBALL MAD; EVERYBODY GOING TO GAME.

Atlanta is baseball mad. It took some time to awaken everyone to the peril that confronted them in letting Birmingham or any other city "show Atlanta up." But once awakened, Atlanta went after things in her own thorough way, and with the final whirlwind campaign this morning will round up a record crowd for the game.

Committees were named to make a thorough canvass of the city and request attendance at the game. Every office building in the city had its individual committee, the wholesalers were divided among committees, every retailer was visited by a special committee.

Every one of these committees reported success with their efforts last night and make the prediction that the crowd that will attend the park will tax its enormous capacity.

Mayor Woodward has issued a proclamation declaring today a half holiday and all the city government employees are going to the game in a body. The county courthouse followed the mayor's lead and all the county and state officials and their employees are going to the game.

The chamber of commerce helped when they sent postal cards to all of their 500 members urging them to close up half day or to permit as many of their employees as consistent with the conduct of their business to attend.

The Atlanta Ad Men's club followed in line with a similar request to all of their members, going even further by asking them all to meet at Johnson-Gewinner's store, Forsyth street side, today at 1:30 o'clock and participate in a big parade.

WEATHER MAN PROMISES BEAUTIFUL DAY TODAY.

It is now entirely up to the weather man as to what kind of a crowd the Crackers will have today and Forecaster von Herrmann has come to the bat with a home run.

"Wednesday will be just such a day as Tuesday was," said Mr. von Herrmann Tuesday afternoon. "It will be a balmy spring day with the temperature just a little higher than it was Tuesday afternoon, an ideal baseball day for fans and players alike."

With such an announcement Forecaster von Herrmann has earned a host of friends among the fan colony and has a booster in the person of one William Andrew Smith, manager of the Crackers.

City councilmen, aldermen, other members of the city government, newspaper men and all others who have passes to the ball game have stated that they are going to lend their effort to swell the attendance by not only attending the game, but discarding their passes for the day and paying their four bits at the gate.

That is the kind of spirit that wins, and that is the kind of spirit that is pervading the entire city as it makes

Police Board Committee Pledges Thorough Probe And Asks for Complaints

Declares Every Department Will Be Thoroughly Investigated and Sets Date for Hearing of Charges.

GLOER IS EXONERATED; BURNETT IS SERGEANT AND SUCCEEDS WHATLEY

Call Officer Given Thirty-Day Suspension--Retained Account of Record—Chief Asks Pensions for Men Old in Service.

Following the regular monthly meeting of the police board of commissioners last night, the special investigation committee appointed at Saturday night's call meeting to investigate charges of inefficiency in the police department, held an organization meeting and selected next Wednesday night, April 21, for the first meeting of the committee to hear complaints from citizens.

Every citizen or group of citizens in Atlanta desiring to enter charges of inefficiency against Chief Beavers or any member of the police force will be heard by the committee.

The investigating committee insists that all charges and complaints must be in writing, and must be backed up by the presence next Wednesday night of the person complaining.

To Probe Every Department.

Commissioner Vaughn said that he thought the investigation of the committee ought to extend to every department of the police force, including the matron's ward, the juvenile probation home, the police chief, the patrolmen, detective force, mounted force and all other departments.

The cells of the prisoners will also be investigated to see if they are being kept in a sanitary condition.

"I don't think that we ought to leave any stone unturned," said Commissioner Holland, "as the newspapers and the public are clamoring too strongly for a thorough probe. If necessary, I am even in favor of probing into the police board itself, and then have council probe the investigating committee. These charges of inefficiency must be weeded out. They are too serious to be passed over lightly.

"It has been charged that the police board is preparing to 'whitewash' the charges of inefficiency made by prominent citizens against Chief Beavers and the police department. These men must be heard from."

May Quiz Reporters.

Commissioner Vaughn intimated that before the committee finished its probe of the inefficiency charges, newspaper reporters, who, he said, had continually howled about the inefficiency of the police, would be called as witnesses and quizzed about Police Chief Beavers' ability and the efficiency of the police. It is considered likely that Mayor Woodward and many others of Chief Beavers' bitterest enemies will be called as witnesses by the special committee.

Commissioners Wardlaw, Bob Clarke and J. D. Sisson declared themselves in favor of an exhaustive probe of the charges, even if it required two months of hard work.

"Our report to the board must be thorough, and include everything in the police department," said Commissioner Clarke.

Public Invited Wednesday.

Commissioner Sisson, who is chairman of this special committee, cordially invites the public to take advantage of their opportunity on next Wednesday night to come to police station and enter whatever complaints they might have against the police chief and the police department.

The regular meeting of the police board covered only routine business, beyond the declaration by Commissioner Vernoy that during the trial of an officer on the charge of being drunk that if the police board wanted the good will of the people it ought to rigidly enforce the rules of the police department.

Two officers, James M. Gloer, who is juvenile probation officer, and J. W. McWilliams, Jr., a call officer, were tried, the former on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, and the latter on the charge of being drunk.

Gloer's Family Testifies.

The several members of the Gloer family were called as witnesses, as well as Night Chief E. L. Jett, Captain of Police W. F. Terry, and Patrolmen Blackstone and Hornsby.

Patrolman Blackstone being the only witness who was positive that Officer Gloer had been drinking when, about two weeks ago, he had a serious altercation with his son, Chester, and his wife, for which he was later fined $10.75 in police court by Recorder George B. Johnson, who found Officer Gloer guilty of disorderly conduct.

Officer Gloer pleaded "not guilty" to the charges brought against him by Chief Beavers, who prosecuted the case.

The decision of his case was taken up in executive session, from which newspaper reporters were not excluded, as last Saturday night, but invited to attend.

Commissioner Holland declared that he didn't think the charges against Officer Gloer, on account of his connections at the juvenile home, ought to be overlooked lightly, or "whitewashed." Chief Beavers lined up with him.

"Officer Gloer's conduct at his home, which resulted from a trivial matter," said Chief Beavers, "may certainly affect his usefulness in the future as a juvenile probation officer."

Commissioner Edwin Johnson moved that the charges against Gloer be dismissed, provided Chief Beavers would recommend same. The chief refused this, indirectly.

Gloer Exonerated.

The chief's wishes in the matter, despite the fact that Commissioner Holland said he had purposely attended the trial of Gloer before Recorder Johnson and that the witnesses had retracted their testimony that was given to Recorder Johnson, were overridden, and Gloer was exonerated.

Attorney John Moore defended Gloer and Attorney Harvey Hill read a letter from Solicitor Lowry Arnold recommending the character of Gloer.

Gloer was reinstated to his position as juvenile probation officer, which

RECOURSE PLANNED TO THE INITIATIVE BY JITNEY OWNERS

New Charter Provision Will Be Called on If Council Fails to Pass Ordinance of Jitney Company.

INJUNCTION IS ASKED BY THE JITNEY CLUB

Developments Come Thick and Fast in the Jitney Situation on Tuesday—Determined Fight Planned.

For the first time since the new charter provision for an initiative and referendum in the passage of city laws was passed by the state legislature, the people will be called upon to vote on an ordinance, if a measure submitted by the Jitney Bus company, of which George B. Kelley is president, is not adopted by council.

The Jitney Bus company has prepared an ordinance, modeled after ordinances in force in other cities and said to be conservative and ample to protect the public, and it will be presented to the city council at its next meeting, signed by 10 per cent of the qualified voters, as required by the city charter. If council refuses to adopt the ordinance it must call an election and permit the people to vote on the proposed ordinance within thirty days.

Petitions setting forth the provisions of the proposed ordinance will be placed in many of the leading stores in the city for the voters to sign. All voters who qualified in the last city election will be eligible.

This will be the first time that advantage has been taken of the new charter provision to let the voters express their will on a law of vital importance to the general public.

Jitney Seeks Injunction.

Almost simultaneously with the action taken by the Jitney Bus company to have an election held, the members of the Jitney Bus club filed a bill to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance already adopted by council and signed by the mayor, and which went into effect last Saturday.

That ordinance was believed by the jitney bus people to be too stringent and in some respects prohibitory. They wanted an ordinance regulating the jitney bus traffic, but did not want one that would make the operation of buses such as to cause the business to be conducted at a loss. So the bill for an injunction was filed by the club and the initiative resorted to by the Jitney Bus company.

While the Jitney Bus company was busy to protect its interests, Chief Beavers, of the police department, thought he should also get busy, and he issued an order for all jitneys to be stopped from operating Wednesday morning if they had not complied with the ordinance passed by council.

The temporary injunction, however, secured by the Jitney Bus club will estop the police from enforcing the ordinance until a hearing is had for a permanent injunction.

The city charter provision under which the Jitney Bus company is proceeding for an election by the people is as follows:

Charter Provision for Election.

"Section 715 (b). Whenever 10 per cent of the registered voters, as disclosed by registration sheets of the last preceding general municipal election, shall request, in a petition filed in the office of the clerk of council of said city, the submission of an ordinance or resolution for adoption by vote of the people, an election shall be called therefor within thirty days after same has been read in council. If at said election said resolution or ordinance receives a majority of the votes cast, it shall become operative and cannot be thereafter repealed except by an election similarly called.

"Provided, however, if the mayor and general council adopt the resolution

A Man's Attire

Clothing may not make the man, but the right kind will help him a whole lot.

A man properly attired has more self-confidence. He has more punch. He can do bigger things.

To dress well need not mean extravagance.

Good taste counts fifty per cent, and the choice of proper attire is largely a matter of discrimination.

The man setting out to get the best he can afford in the matter of clothing will do well to read The Constitution advertising. He'll find there the message of substantial and reliable merchants.

It is their business to help men dress well—they thrive because they give their customers an honest deal.

Honest advertising is most productive when used in The Atlanta Constitution.

SUPPLY MEN SOUND NOTE OF OPTIMISM

Fifteenth Annual Convention of Association Convenes in Atlanta This Morning.

A strong note of optimism, with confidence in the return of normal business conditions over the southeast, is sounded by leaders of the Southern Supply and Machinery Dealers' association who have come to Atlanta 500 strong to hold their fifteenth annual convention, beginning this morning. J. G. Belding, of Augusta, first vice president of the association, who will preside at the sessions, declares that in his opinion the low water mark has been passed and that the spring is bringing a return of prosperity, which in many parts of the south is already approaching normal.

"I believe I express the opinion of every member attending this meeting," said Mr. Belding, "when I say that the entire country is headed toward a period of great prosperity. The feeling today is entirely different from what it was six months ago. Among many hard thinkers then had the idea that the European war would bring all sorts of complications and bad results for American trade in its wake. But now the most conservative are taking a brighter view of the outlook and a general impression prevails that good times are coming, whether the European war ends this year or not."

Alvin M. Smith, of Richmond, Va., secretary and treasurer of the association, says that bank clearings and general business are rapidly getting back to normal in Virginia and that business men in his section are strongly optimistic. Other officials and members of the association reflect these views.

Today's Sessions.

The convention, which is one of the most important of the year from a business standpoint, will be opened by an executive session this morning at 10 o'clock in the convention hall at the Piedmont, when the report of the president and of the committees will be received.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock there will be an open session for the discussion of business subjects and all manufacturers, whether members of the association or not, are notified to attend. Tomorrow there will be an executive session at 10 a. m. and an open session at 1 p. m., and on Friday there will be one executive session lasting from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., at which a new president will be elected.

An elaborate social program has been arranged for the gathering, including a matinee this afternoon at the Forsyth, a smoker and reception at 9 p. m. tonight at the Piedmont, when some interesting gridiron stunts will be pulled off; a tea at the Driving club on Thursday and a dance at the Capital City club Thursday night. Friday afternoon is reserved for golf at the Druid Hills club.

Many Delegates to Attend.

The Southern Supply and Machinery Dealers' association decided to hold its 1915 meeting in Atlanta as the result of an invitation carried to them by Fred House, of the Atlanta Convention bureau, who went to Houston, Texas, to deliver it. The invitation was seconded by the governor, mayor and Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Atlanta's representative business interests are active in the local plans for the convention. The committee on arrangements is composed of J. J. Disosway, chairman; W. M. McDonald, J. R. Whitman and George Winship, Jr.

The entertainment committee is composed of Henry P. Nelson, chairman; Jack Lewis, Rix Stafford, Charles P. King, Joseph T. Rose, J. J. Disosway, W. M. McDonald.

The ladies' committee consists of Mrs. C. P. King, chairman; Mesdames W. M. McDonald, J. J. Disosway, S. C. Dinkins, J. Russell Porter, Charles Porter, Rix Stafford, W. R. C. Smith, Henry A. Coles, E. D. West, V. A. Moore, H. P. Nelson and Jack Lewis.

Already several hundred visitors have arrived in Atlanta, representing the principal cities of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

CANADIAN AVIATORS FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

Ottawa, Ontario, April 13.—The British admiralty has asked Canada for recruits for the royal naval air service, it was announced here today, and the Dominion government has notified men who have an ambition for military aerial work to make application to the Canadian naval service department at Ottawa.

Mother Makes Plea And Girl Is Given Yet Another Chance

For Violating Terms of Her Probation, Miss Ethel Pylant Is Again Hailed Before Recorder.

Mrs. Ethel Pylant, 16 years old and pretty, was hailed again before Recorder Johnson, this time her offense being violation of the terms of her probation.

Mrs. Pylant was one of the four young girls upon whom, it was alleged, were lavished the jewels obtained in the robberies some months ago of the gang of boys who called themselves "the white cappers," and who committed many burglaries in and around Atlanta. It was the display by these girls of the stolen jewelry that finally led to the conviction of "the white cappers" and the uncovering of a plot of wholesale theft, not only in Atlanta, but extending to other southern cities.

It was alleged by officers that Mrs. Pylant was not reporting to the probation officer, that she was seen too often on the streets and that she was frequenting an ice cream parlor at 32 Luckie street, which was expressly prohibited in the terms of her probation.

The girl's mother, Mrs. May Oakes, of 224 1-2 Marietta street, pleaded earnestly for another chance for her daughter, saying that she would exert every effort possible to keep the girl at home, and Recorder Johnson, after promises from both the girl and her mother, agreed to indefinitely postpone sending the girl to one of the county homes.

Whisky and Ammunition Make a Very Bad Mixture, Declares Ex.-Gov. West

Baker, Ore., April 13.—"I know from experience that whisky and ammunition mixed would make trouble, and I wished to close those saloons so as to remove the one thing that might make trouble," said ex-Governor Oswald West on the witness stand in the state circuit court here today, explaining his action in closing the Copperfield saloons over a year ago.

Mr. West was on the stand all morning in the $1,500 damage suits brought against him and others by William Wiegand.

"I was advised by the district attorney," said Mr. West, "that many persons in Copperfield were going armed. I did not want to take chances of anybody getting killed, so I put the town under martial law and confiscated the whisky."

MEN AND WOMEN ARE BUTCHERED AFTER CAPTURE

MACHINE GUNS TURNED ON HELPLESS PRISONERS

One Carranza Officer Killed 120 Prisoners With Machine Gun—Other Officers Used Revolvers—Wounded Were Bayonetted.

Laredo, Texas, April 13.—Information from Carranza officers and soldiers in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, indicate that 350 Villa troops who surrendered after yesterday's battle near Huisachito, thirty miles south of the border, were summarily executed by the Carranza forces.

It was also reported that a number of Mexican women camp followers were executed by the Carranza troops.

It was stated tonight on what is considered authentic authority that a Carranza general ordered machine guns turned on one party of surrendering Villa soldiers, resulting in the death of seventy-six men in one body.

Another Carranza officer is credited with having killed one hundred and twenty prisoners with a machine gun, while other Carranza commanders were said to have used revolvers freely. The wounded, it was said, were bayonetted on the field.

Executions in Retaliation.

Carranza officers in Nuevo Laredo say the wholesale executions were ordered in retaliation for alleged similar killing of Carranza forces under General Maclovio Herrera recently by Villa troops.

Americans returning from the Huisachito battlefield said they saw bodies of dead Villa soldiers which apparently had been bayoneted after being shot. They said soldiers on the field told them many prisoners were executed yesterday.

It was said Herrera's losses yesterday were twenty-five killed and forty-two wounded. He flanked the Villa troops with about 1,000 soldiers and simultaneously the Carranza soldiers opened fire on the Villa troops with machine guns from an armored train.

HEAVY BLOW DEALT TO THE VILLA ARMY.

Brownsville, Texas, April 13.—In a sortie today the Carranza garrison defending Matamoros inflicted a heavy blow upon the Villa army besieging the town. General Saulo Navarre, second in command of the Villa troops, was brought to Brownsville tonight dangerously wounded, and the Carranza consulate here claimed the Villa dead numbered 300. The sortie drew from the Villa forces their long-promised shelling of Matamoros, but the shelling stopped when the Carranza garrison returned to the trenches, and tonight firing had ceased, with the positions of the armies practically unchanged.

During the bombardment eight shells passed completely over Matamoros, and four others dropped in the city, but did little damage. None of the shells fell on the American side of the Rio Grande.

Both factions tonight claimed to have won the fight, but neither would permit anyone to cross the border to obtain direct information of the fighting. Villa officers declare that while the outposts of the besieging army first were driven back, the Carranza troops retreated when the Villa cavalry brought up its main forces. General E. P. Nafarrate, Carranza commander, gave his losses as seventeen killed and sixty wounded. The dead on the Carranza side include Lieutenant Colonel Miguel Barrera Guerra.

GERMANY IS HURRYING THOUSANDS OF TROOPS TO CARPATHIAN FRONT

It Is Said German General Staff Has Taken Entire Charge of the Operations. Fierce Fighting Continues and the Russians Claim to Be Making Progress.

ITALY JOINS THE ALLIES TO AID SERBIA'S CLAIMS

London, April 14—(3:18 a. m.)—"After prolonged negotiations," says The Daily Mail's Rome correspondent, "Italy has agreed with the entente powers to support Serbia's claims to an outlet on the Adriatic coast."

London, April 13.—Two gateways into Hungary still remain barred, despite the tremendous Russian hammering, and as the Beskid pass is the less important of the two strategically, a further advance into Hungary hangs on the possession of Uzsok pass, where the invaders are meeting with stubborn opposition.

Several days ago the Russians captured a position which gave them command of a road leading to the rear of Uzsok pass, but since then the Teutonic allies have checked the movement. The importance of the Carpathian operations is indicated by the half-hearted actions along the rest of the long eastern front.

The people of the dual monarchy are said to be greatly cheered by the number of German reinforcements passing through Budapest on the way to the Carpathian front to take part in the operations.

SITUATION PIVOTS ON UZSOK PASS.

The whole situation in the east pivots on Uzsok pass, where the Austro-German forces are in such great strength that the efforts of the Russians to reach the Hungarian plains are likely to be prolonged.

In the Carpathians, especially near the Uzsok pass, fierce fighting continues. Petrograd asserts that after desperate encounters the heights near the villages of Bukovitz, Beneff and Vyssokonizy were captured by the Muscovites and with them fifty-three officers and 2,700 men and one gun and twenty machine guns.

Vienna takes issue with this statement, declaring that Russian attacks in the vicinity of the Uzsok pass, which is considered to be of the greatest strategic importance as an outlet to the plains of Hungary, were repulsed with heavy losses. Likewise Vienna is at variance with Petrograd's claim that the Russians have advanced on both banks of the Ondawa and on several of the heights east of Telepotch, for Vienna asserts that elsewhere in the Carpathian region than the Uzsok pass sector the situation is unchanged.

KAISER DIRECTS IN CARPATHIANS.

Five independent Austrian armies are operating along the Carpathian front. Petrograd semi-official dispatches say these various units are under direction of the German general staff, and that Emperor William personally is supervising the staff's plans.

In Bukowina heavy fighting is in progress, according to a Bucharest dispatch to Paris. Of two Austrian armored trains which advanced against the Russians yesterday, one is said to have been blown up and the other forced to withdraw after being damaged.

The German attack near the Prussian frontier has been resumed and another battle is in progress for possession of the important Russian fortress of Ossowetz. Recent abandonment of the siege of this fortress had been interpreted in Petrograd as meaning the Germans has given up hope of advancing on Warsaw from the north.

ALLIES IN WEST READY FOR DRIVE.

Field Marshal Sir John French's message to his countrymen at home that "I know when the time comes for us to make our great move we can break through the Germans," and the British eye-witness' statement that there are plain signs of the "gradual weakening of the German resistance," are accepted here as in intimation that the present steady pressure on the western front shortly will develop into events of vaster scope. It is expected that the next three months will be especially memorable in this epoch-making war.

Military writers believe the reported French successes between the Meuse and the Moselle—an important region between the rival fortresses of Verdun and Metz—have given a promising opening for the spring campaign. They regard it as the signal for the final offensive which has been awaiting the arrival of adequate accumulations of men, equipment and supplies.

JOFFRE GIVES ANOTHER TWIST.

Suspension of infantry fighting in this all-important Verdun district has been quickly ended, as was expected, by the German attempt to recapture the position of Les Eparges, possession of which enabled General Joffre to give another twist to the screw of the vise wherewith he hopes to grip the German position of St. Mihiel, that bastion-like projection into the French line which the invaders have held tenaciously for so many months.

VILLAGES TAKEN BY RUSSIANS.

Petrograd, April 13.—(Via London, April 14, 12:55 a. m.)—The following general headquarters communication was issued tonight:

"On April 11 and 12 the battle in the Carpathians developed with great intensity from the direction of Bartfeld in the direction of Stry. Our corps advanced on both banks of the Ondawa, south of Stropko. They captured several heights to the northeast of Telepotch and gained a victory in the direction of Uzsok, where, after extremely desperate fighting, the heights in the regions of the villages of Bukowitz, Reneff and Vyssokonizy fell into our hands.

"We captured in this section 2,700 prisoners, including 53 officers, and we took one gun and twenty machine guns.

"On the heights south of Kozlouwka, especially in the region of Volossate, the enemy delivered impetuous attacks in great strength. All of them were repulsed with enormous losses to the enemy.

"Bukowina: On an extended front in the direction of Zale Szczyky (north of Czernowitz) the enemy on the night of the 11th delivered furious attacks in an impenetrable darkness and torrential rain, but everywhere our infantry, who met the attacks with the bayonet, maintained the upper hand.

"On the front west of Niemen we repulsed several German attacks. In the other sectors along the whole of our front collisions between reconnoitering detachments have become more frequent."

Paris, April 13.—A fierce struggle continues in Bukowina, according to a dispatch to The Petit Parisien from Bucharest. The Austrians are reported to have dispatched two armored trains against the Russians near Bojana yesterday. They were met by a terrific fire from the Russian artillery. One of them crawled back to Czernowitz badly damaged, but the other was blown up. Austrian troops which followed the trains delivered two furious attacks, but are said to have been repulsed.

The dispatch says that four steamers loaded with troops, ammunition and war materials for Serbia, passed Oltenitza, a Rumanian town on the Danube, yesterday. They were loudly cheered by the Rumanians.

London, April 13.—The following semi-official statement issued at Petrograd is contained in a dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company:

"Ossowetz was bombarded throughout the day Sunday by 8-inch howitzers. The artillery of the forts replied, seriously damaging one of the enemy's siege batteries. The Germans tried to send four fire rafts against the forts, but they were sunk.

"In the region of Jedwabno there was active fighting in the trenches, during which bomb-throwers were used."

ALL GAINS HELD BY THE FRENCH.

Paris, April 13.—(Via London.)—The following official war office statement was issued tonight:

"The day was calm along the whole front. We maintained and consolidated our positions at the different points where we had made progress during the last eight days.

The communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"Between the sea and the Aisne there is nothing to report except a few artillery duels.

"To the east of Berry-au-Bac we gained possession of a German trench.

"In the Argonne there were mining operations and engagements of bomb and grenade throwing between our own and the enemy's trenches.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle our forces succeeded at several points in coming in contact with the wire entanglements of the enemy's defense."

FRENCH REPULSED, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, April 13.—(Via London.)—The German army headquarters today gave out the following:

"In the western arena: The French assert they dropped 150 bombs on the railway station and near the beach at Ostend and on a foundry at Bruges. As a matter of fact nine bombs fell in the neighborhood of Ostend and two in Bruges without doing any damage. In return we dropped numerous bombs during the last night on the villages of Poperinghe, Hazebrouck and Kassel, which are occupied by British troops.

"At Bergebat French troops penetrated into one of our trenches during the night, but were immediately repulsed. An attack by aviators of the enemy in the region to the east of Rheims resulted in failure. To the northeast of Suippe shells developing asphyxiating gases again were used against us.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle the French continued their attack at certain places with great fierceness, but without success. Three attacks during the early morning at Malzerey, near Verdun, broke down under our fire with very heavy losses. Attacks were commenced during the afternoon and evening at Marcheville, southeast of Malzerey, during which the enemy brought up strong columns. They came to an end with the same result. An attack was begun at daybreak against the front between Malzerey and Marcheville with very considerable losses to the enemy.

"In the forest of Le Pretre fighting at close quarters took place throughout the day and night of yesterday, during which we gained ground slowly.

"A French attack last night at a point south of Hartmanns-Weilerkopf was repulsed.

"There has been no change in the eastern arena of hostilities."

RUSSIANS STOPPED, AUSTRIANS CLAIM.

Vienna, April 13.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued today at army headquarters.

"The Russian offensive, which began on March 20, has now been arrested. When the attempted irruption during the Easter holidays of the Laborcza and Ondawa valleys failed, the enemy again attempted to advance in the wooded mountain regions on both sides of Uzsok pass, but all attacks during the last few days were repulsed with heavy Russian losses.

TURKISH CAMP BOMBARDED.

"Yesterday a battleship in connection with French seaplanes, bombarded the important Turkish encampment in the neighborhood of Gaza."

"The bombardment of Gaza marks the development of hostilities in a new quarter. Gaza is in southern Palestine, near the Egyptian frontier, two miles inland from the Mediterranean and 48 miles southwest of Jerusalem. The Turkish encampment near this city may have been established in connection with the advance of Turkish troops across the Sinai peninsula to the Suez canal.

GERMAN TROOPS SENT TO HUNGARY.

Venice, Italy, April 13.—(Via London.)—Messages from Vienna say the passage of many German troops through Budapest on the way to the Carpathians had somewhat reassured the Hungarian population, which had become alarmed by reports that a Russian invasion threatened.

It is said the defense of the Carpathians has been largely entrusted to Germans. Viennese journals assert the German troops have not only repulsed the Russians, but have initiated counter attacks and captured large stores of munitions.

WAR ORDER IS GIVEN TO ITALIAN OFFICERS

Rome, April 13.—An order printed in The Military Journal directs all army officers to dull the metal on their uniforms and the scabbards of their swords. This is a measure usually adopted on the eve of war.

After receiving a warning from the minister of war that in case of mobilization the public schools would be used to house troops the municipal council met tonight (Monday) to discuss what measures would be taken in such an emergency. It was decided to have school sessions continued in hired buildings, substituting women for male teachers who would be called to the colors. It also was decided that so far as possible street cars and other public utilities would be operated by women provided mobilization resulted in a shortage of male employees.

The Old Skipper—"Don't you come telling me none of your cock-an'-bull yarns about waves 40 feet high. Why, I've been at sea, man-an' boy, for nigh on fifty years, and I never saw none no higher than forty." The Young Sailor—"Ah, but see how things are gone up since then."—Kansas City Star.

"DRY" GREAT BRITAIN SEEMS TO BE PROBABLE

Drastic Action on Liquor Question Expected at Session of Parliament.

London, April 13.—Probably no session of the British parliament since the opening of the war has been awaited with keener interest than the sitting which will begin tomorrow.

A "dry England" unknown except for a period of two years 150 years ago, is not beyond the possibilities, but the government has given no official hint as to what action may be expected.

Several days ago an opposition paper published a forecast of the government plan, which, it asserted, contemplated the prohibition of all liquors, except light beer, which would be manufactured by the government. This prediction received some confirmation tonight from a government organ, which declared the entire business of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors is to become a government monopoly.

WILLIAM R. NELSON DEAD

He Was Editor and Owner of The Kansas City Star.

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—William Rockhill Nelson, editor and owner of The Kansas City Star, died at his home here early today. Mr. Nelson, who was 74 years old, had been in ill health several months and had been confined to his home since last December. Uraemic poisoning caused his death, according to physicians.

Mr. Nelson took an active part in the management of The Star up until about a month ago, when his condition took a turn for the worse, from which he never recovered. Until then members of The Star staff gathered at his bedside several times weekly for the purpose of discussing with Mr. Nelson questions of editorial policy.

Mr. Nelson's last conference with his associates took place in his bedroom the day he became unconscious. It pertained to the necessity of keeping up the fight for honest elections.

"That is fundamental for democratic government," he said. "I may not be here to see the fight won, but The Star will fight on with all its resources, and all the present rotten system is broken down."

For many years Mr. Nelson was a director of the Associated Press.

As Mr. Nelson became weaker artificial means were used to prolong his life. To this he objected vigorously. Thursday afternoon he sank into a coma from which he could not rally.

Throughout his illness the prayers of the poor was of intense concern to him. He made large gifts to local charitable institutions and was absorbed in the work of a soup kitchen which his daughter, Mrs. Kirkwood, inaugurated and conducted.

It was announced today "as far as is humanly possible The Star will be conducted in accordance with the aims and ideas of Mr. Nelson."

Funeral services for Mr. Nelson will be held Friday.

Bishop Cameron Mann, Episcopal bishop of Florida, will have charge of the services. Bishop Mann and Mr. Nelson had been personal friends since young manhood.

Hundreds of telegrams paying respect to the memory of the editor arrived today. One from President Wilson, addressed to Mrs. Nelson, said: "May I not express my deep sympathy with you in the loss of your husband. The whole country will mourn the loss of the great editor and citizen."

Mr. Nelson's body will remain in the home until after the funeral. Burial will be in Kansas City.

THIEF WORKS TRICK; IS RICHER BY $100

A bold thief carried away $100 in cash from the cigar store at No. 9 North Broad street, Tuesday morning, while Officer George Bullock was investigating the cause of breaking glass in a store on Journal way, just around the corner.

Bullock said that as he tried the door the cigar store at a quarter after 4 o'clock Tuesday morning he heard a noise on Journal way. As no trace of a burglar had been seen Bullock closed the entrance. In coming back onto Broad street again at a quarter to 5 o'clock he tried the door of the cigar stand and found it open. It is believed by investigating officers that the thief broke the glass on Journal way to attract the officer's attention, and then ran around the block for the money.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT SEPARATED AT FUNERAL

New Haven, Conn., April 13.—Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft were among the honorary pallbearers at the funeral here today of Professor Thomas P. Lounsbury, of Yale. It was the first time the two ex-presidents had been in each other's presence since they became opposing candidates for the presidency in 1912. In the chapel today they occupied different pews.

Colonel Roosevelt reached the chapel only a few moments before the hour set for the services, and met the other bearers in the vestibule. He shook hands with each in turn, meeting Mr. Taft last. The greeting between these two apparently was purely formal, and a instant later they had separated and passed into the chapel. They did not meet again.

BRITISH TORPEDO BOAT RAIDS DARDANELLES

The Renard Runs Up Straits for Over Ten Miles Without Being Hit.

London, April 14.—(2:12 a. m.)—The British torpedo boat destroyer Renard entered the Dardanelles Monday on a scouting mission and ran up the straits at high speed for over 10 miles, penetrating the waterways probably farther than any of the British ships have yet done," says Reuter's Tenedos correspondent. "A heavy fire was directed at her, but she was not hit.

"The British battleship London, which followed the Renard into the straits, drew most of the enemy's fire. The batteries on the Asiatic side were active, but those on the European side were quiet. Possibly the Turks have withdrawn part of their artillery on the European side to be able to mass it quickly at any spot the allied armies may choose for a landing.

CARRANZA AND VILLA ARE AGAINST HUERTA

Factions Will Unite to Oppose the Return of Ex-Dictator to Mexico.

New York, April 13.—General Victoriano Huerta, who arrived here last night from Spain, was attacked tonight in a statement issued by Francisco Urquidi, Villa's consul general in New York, who declared that both factions in Mexico were united in opposition to Huerta.

The Carranza representatives issued no statement.

"There must be no misunderstanding of one matter," the Urquidi statement declared. "Though the revolution in Mexico unhappily is now divided, there is an absolute unanimity of opinion among followers of both General Villa and General Carranza in their hostility to Huerta and all other reactionary elements which he has represented and still aspires to represent.

"Any movement he might organize to place himself once again in power would be the same whether confronted by the forces of either party."

Urquidi said he doubted if Huerta would attempt to start a fresh revolution in Mexico. He believed, however, that Huerta's stay in this country would result in an advantage to those opposed to him. "We shall be able to know better," the statement concluded, "who are the friends upon whose aid he is relying."

Despite Huerta's assurances on landing yesterday that he would do nothing while here to violate the neutrality of the United States, it was reported today in Mexican circles that important conferences would be held here at once to determine whether the time was ripe for Huerta to interfere in Mexico, rally his old battalions to his support and attempt to put down the factions contending for control of that country. It was said that agents of the federal government here were keeping a close watch on his movements.

33,000 British Women Have Given Their Names For Special War Service

London, April 13.—Thirty-three thousand women had registered themselves for special war service up to the end of March, Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, tonight told a deputation representing various London women's societies.

Six thousand of the women, Mr. Runciman said, had declared themselves willing to work in armament factories, 4,000 in clothing factories, 1,700 in dairy work, 500 as gardeners, 2,000 in various branches of agricultural work, 1,100 as shop assistants, 500 as leather workers and 5,000 in clerical work. Six hundred women had been given employment, at the board of trade, Mr. Runciman announced.

The government, the speaker continued, insisted that women employed on government contract work be paid the same piece rates as men. The government had arranged to give women qualified to undertake dairy or agricultural work a fortnight's training in agricultural colleges, paying them, meanwhile, a living allowance.

Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, urged that the government should take measures to secure for women, in whatever capacity they are employed, the same pay as men receive.

FORGERY IS CHARGED TO ST. LOUIS LEADER

St. Louis, April 13.—August H. Frederick, who last Tuesday was elected president of the St. Louis board of aldermen—a position in which he would share with the mayor and the comptroller the responsibility of drafting the city budget—today was indicted for forgery in the first degree.

Mr. Frederick was elected by 22,000 majority, but his plurality was 16,000 below the high man on his ticket, the republican. In a formal statement last night he said he would resign.

Frederick, who was technically arrested last night at the direction of the circuit attorney, was formally taken in charge on a bench warrant today. He made arrangement for a $10,000 bond. The minimum penalty for forgery in the first degree is ten years' imprisonment.

Frederick is alleged to have given deeds of trust in return for loans. He long has been prominent in the business and political life of St. Louis. He was a director of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, formerly was president of the St. Louis Real Estate exchange and formerly was president of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges.

AMERICAN STEAMER TO THE PRIZE COURT

London, April 13.—The American steamer Joseph W. Fordney and her cargo have been thrown into the prize court at Kirkwall. The admiralty charges the steamer attempted to evade search while bound with a cargo of forage to Malmo, Sweden. The Fordney sailed from New York March 20, and was taken into Kirkwall April 7.

The Swedish steamer Hilding, from New York March 10, for Copenhagen, and detained at Kirkwall March 31, was taken to Leith April 9. The admiralty alleges that the vessel carried copper not on her manifest.

The Norwegian steamer Sorland, from New York March 17 for Gothenburg, Sweden, was detained at Kirkwall April 7 and taken to Hartlepool Sunday. The steamer will discharge several shipments in her cargo for investigation.

REPAIRS ARE REQUESTED FOR KRONPRINZ WILHELM

Newport News, Va., April 13.—Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder, commander of the German converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, delivered to Collector of Customs Hamilton late today his formal request of the Washington government for time to remain in this neutral port for temporary repairs to his ship.

The request was made in two letters, one amplifying the other, which were forwarded to the secretary of the treasury and their contents not divulged. It is understood that the German commander asked for three weeks' time as a maximum in which to make the Wilhelm seaworthy, but that he stated he would make every effort to complete temporary repairs and leave port before that time.

It was learned that the stipulations related only to temporary repairs because a necessity for thorough overhauling of the Wilhelm, which would require months, were all needed repairs undertaken at this time.

Asks Permission to Dry Dock.

It is understood that his request includes, however, a petition for permission to go into dry dock immediately.

The ship yard experts' estimates of repairs necessary were included in the captain's letters to the secretary of the treasury. One letter, it is understood, relates to repairs to machinery and the other to the exterior plates which have been warped by coaling at sea and ramming merchant ships of the allies.

While opinion continues to prevail that the Wilhelm will never leave this port until the close of the war, Commander Thierfelder is much more demonstrative than was Captain Thierichens, of the Prinz Eitel, in his insistence that the merchant raider must return to the high seas even if she must run the gauntlet of allied warships off the capes a second time.

"We must get out," he said again today, emphasizing his statement by pounding the table in his cabin. "We got in and we can get out. The fact that warships of the enemy are waiting for us does not worry us. Those ships might sink us, but that has no fears for me."

The young captain stroked his forehead as he spoke and continued:

"Who am I? I am as nothing—till these men are ill if we can not do anything to help them."

The Beri Beri Patients.

Dr. Joseph Goldberger, of Washington, at the request of Surgeon General Rupert Blue, of the public health service, made an examination on board ship today of the beri beri patients. Few opportunities have been afforded the United States health authorities to study this disease. Dr. Goldberg found about ninety-five cases, several having improved considerably since Sunday. He was escorted on his examination by Dr. Wilfrid H. Kerr, the quarantine officer at Old Point Comfort. He returned to Washington tonight with his observations.

One French and one British cruiser were sighted today off the Virginia capes by pilots who brought ships into port. The French warship had four funnels and was believed to be the Conde. She was lying about five miles out when sighted this morning. Later in the day a British cruiser believed to be the converted Cunarder was sighted.

Searching for Another Raider.

Late tonight it was reported that while two allied warships are guarding the Virginia capes four or five others are spreading out in the Atlantic in search of another German sea raider. The search to make interned in the German battleship Karlsruhe, which overtook and converted the Wilhelm at sea last August and has since been several times reported destroyed, officers and members of the Wilhelm's crew asserted today that they did not believe the Karlsruhe had been sunk or beached. One declared that the Karlsruhe had been heard from since she was last reported destroyed. He also stated that the Karlsruhe last summer destroyed a British naval base at Bridgetown, Barbadoes Island, and that details of the exploit never were revealed.

REPLY BEING PREPARED TO GERMAN COMPLAINT

Washington, April 13.—State department officials were considering today the recent memorandum of the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, on the question of the shipment of foodstuffs and the exportation of arms, but no intimation was given as to the character of the reply to be made.

The attitude of the Washington government on the exportation of arms has been set forth in various statements from the state department since the outbreak of the war. It is to the effect that citizens of the United States sell on an equality to all belligerents, foodstuffs, arms, ammunition and all classes of contraband, but do not undertake to deliver these products. Responsibility for delivery or failure to deliver rests with the naval forces of the belligerents.

The proposal to forbid the exportation of arms is viewed by the Washington government as likely to embarrass the United States in the future, in the event of war it might find the market for arms barred in other lands because of any action taken by the United States during the present struggle.

Officials feel, too, that if the United States takes the lead in forbidding the exportation of arms and ammunition, work entirely would be finished in the city of manufacturing themselves in time of peace on a war footing and therefore armaments would be greatly increased.

THIRD CORDELE BLACK TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Cordele, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—Allen Carter is the third negro victim of a suicidal mania that seems to have become prevalent among Cordele negroes within the past year. Carter had been in the employ of W. B. Lewis, a farmer, though for some months his mental condition was of low ebb. Yesterday he secured a Winchester rifle, calmly sat down in a chair and placed the big toe of his right foot on the trigger. Then he held the gun over on the barrel and blew out his brains.

M'ADOO IS BACKED BY GOVERNMENT

In the Fight Precipitated by Riggs Bank Against the Secretary and Also Against Comptroller Williams.

Washington, April 13.—Developments today indicated that the government intends to do its utmost to back up Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury, and Comptroller of the Currency Williams in the legal fight precipitated by the Riggs National bank, complainant in equity proceedings to enjoin these officials from alleged attempts to drive that institution out of business through systematic and long continued persecution.

Brandeis Is Employed.

Attorney General Gregory announced tonight that the department of justice had employed Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, to defend Messrs. Williams and McAdoo in the injunction proceedings. He declared his department and the treasury were co-operating in these proceedings. It became known, also, that Jesse C. Adkins, former assistant attorney general, also had been retained in the case.

Officials declined today to say whether the government at this time contemplates any affirmative proceedings in addition to the defense of Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Williams in the injunction case. It was denied, however, that the bureau of investigation of the department of justice had undertaken any investigation of affairs of the Riggs bank.

Lawyers in the case gave attention today to the question of whether the comptroller had exceeded his powers in certain acts of which the bank complains, and it was maintained that for the sake of precedent to be established, this alone would be sufficient to insure a strong defense by the government. It was recalled that while the courts have declined to interfere with the ordinary exercise of the executive functions by an officer of the government, the supreme court had decided that where an excess of such power is disclosed an injunction may be obtained.

That the present case may go to the supreme court seemed entirely probable, for both sides apparently are preparing to fight to the end.

Bank Answers Charges of Williams.

The bank tonight gave out a statement reviewing charges made by Mr. Williams last night. It called attention to Mr. Williams' announcement that investigation of the bank had disclosed irregularities and that the department of justice had engaged the services of Louis D. Brandeis some weeks ago as special counsel in the case. The statement recited that at noon today Attorney General Gregory stated that Mr. Brandeis had not been engaged by the department of justice, and that the statement that he had been retained was incorrect at the time it was made.

Mr. Gregory's own statement in regard to the employment of Mr. Brandeis, given out before that of the bank, follows:

"The department of justice has employed Mr. Brandeis as special counsel to assist in the defense of the injunction proceedings brought by the Riggs National bank. Up to the filing of the suit yesterday, the department of justice had not had before it for official consideration the controversy between the treasury department and the Riggs National bank, but knew in a general way that these existed and might result in some character of litigation. The department of justice and the treasury department are in accord and heartily co-operating in this suit."

The bank, in its statement, declares that Mr. Williams takes credit to himself for the fact that the bank is solvent when, in fact, he caused the withdrawal of hundreds of thousands of dollars during the summer and fall of 1914, "at a time when financial conditions were exceedingly uncertain in this country because of the great war in Europe."

Denies Tempting Women Clients.

The statement answers Mr. Williams' charge made in letters to the bank, that it loaned large sums to women for speculation purposes, by saying that Washington has probably more women than any city of its size in the world who have fortunes, and adds that its losses through loans to such clients have been negligible.

The bank declares that Mr. Williams has no foundation for the allegation also made in letters that it has tempted young men and women to ruin through speculation.

"The fact is," says the statement, "that the officers of this bank have never advised or encouraged any person, man or woman, young or old, to speculate or buy stocks for investment, and the comptroller's insinuation to the contrary is a gross perversion of the truth, of which no officer of the government ought to be guilty, with respect to any matter, and especially the comptroller of the currency be guilty of it for the purpose of injuring a bank in the public estimation."

The statement points out that officers of the bank who held seats on the Washington stock exchange voluntarily gave them up in 1914 because they believed the federal reserve act might forbid an officer of a bank acting as a broker on a stock exchange.

PRICE WILL ATTEND DIRECTORS' MEETING EXPERIMENT TODAY

Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price, who is chairman of the board of directors of the state experiment station, will leave the city this morning for Experiment, to attend the quarterly meeting of the board today. He will be accompanied by John A. Cobb, of Americus; Robert Berckmans, of Augusta, and State Entomologist E. Lee Worsham, who, with him, are members of the state entomological board. The station directors will give a barbecue there today, to which a number of Georgians from various sections have been invited. In order that they may inspect the work the station is doing.

From Experiment Commissioner Price will go to Columbus, where he has accepted an invitation to address the farmers' meeting to be held there Thursday. Captain Cobb, who is president of the Georgia State Agricultural society, will also attend the Columbus meeting. He is taking an active interest in the state fair and is working hard for its success this year.

Council Committee Will Begin Thursday Public School Probe

The committee from the city council which is to make a report on the condition of Atlanta's schools will hold its first meeting Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Members of the committee, it is stated, will insist upon either the entire committee or a subcommittee making a personal inspection of all the schools in the city for the purpose of ascertaining at first hand the exact condition of the schools.

Edgar Dunlap, chairman; John S. Owens, Jesse Armistead, Claude Ashley, A. W. Farlinger, Jesse Wood and Dr. J. C. White.

This committee was appointed on a resolution introduced by Mr. Armistead, chairman of the school committee of council and ex-officio member of the board of education.

The council school investigating committee is the outcome of the work of the Atlanta Woman's School Improvement association. The association made an inspection of the schools and reported conditions as a menace to the health, if not the lives, of the children.

It is believed that the council committee will make a most exhaustive investigation and then submit a report to council giving the true condition of the schools and making recommendations to remedy such conditions.

County Attorney Rules On Who Are Qualified To Vote for Ordinary

Four candidates are in the race for the unexpired term of Ordinary John R. Wilkinson—Paul Donehoo, Courtland S. Winn, W. R. Hammond and Thomas H. Jeffries.

The following statement regarding the eligibility of voters for the election, which has been called for April 30, was issued Tuesday by County Attorney E. E. Pomeroy:

"All persons who are registered for the last general election and all persons who shall register from the time of such general election until five days after the call of special elections, unless otherwise disqualified by law, shall be entitled to vote.

"The tax collector shall close his voters' book five days after the call for special election, and shall, within five days thereafter, file with the county registrars an accurate and complete list of all names signed in the voters' book since the close of said book for the last general election. This contemplates a supplemental list of the additional names.

"Any person who shall have paid his taxes up to the time of the closing of the book for the special election, may register and vote in this election, provided his taxes up and including the year 1914 have been paid. No person's name shall be left on the list for the last general election, unless he shall have paid his 1914 taxes. Assuming that the call for the election was issued on April 10, you should close your voters' book on the night of April 15, when your office closes for business, and five days thereafter file your supplemental list with the registrars."

pays) the second largest salary of any position on the police force.

Captain A. L. Poole, who on Easter Sunday suspended Call Officer McWilliams for drinking "near beer," paid a high tribute to the young officer, declaring that even though the officer had disobeyed the rules by taking too much near beer, that he was the most fearless and bravest officer on the entire force and the best policeman he (Captain Poole) had ever seen. Captain Poole for a long time was on the county police force.

Several of the commissioners were in favor of discharging Officer McWilliams, but in view of the fact that a number of his superior officers had so highly recommended him as an officer, he was given only thirty days' suspension with a recommendation that Chief Beavers reprimand him severely before his fellow officers on the morning watch.

McWilliams Praised.

"Chief," said Chairman Fain, "tell the policemen that McWilliams would have been discharged if he had been any other policeman. We want the officers to know that this young officer is forgiven this time with a light sentence, because he has an unsullied record as a courageous officer.

"This policeman has captured scores of bad burglars, single-handed, when I thought he would surely be killed."

Chief Beavers recommended to the board that a number of old policemen, who had been made incompetent for police work due to the infirmities of age, be pensioned, and younger men put in their places.

Supernumerary W. D. McMichen was elected a regular policeman to fill the vacancy created by former Police Sergeant W. J. Whatley, who was pensioned by council.

Burnett Named Sergeant.

Traffic Officer R. P. Burnett, who has been stationed on duty at Five Points during the day, was elected to the vacancy of sergeant of police created by Whatley's retiring.

Four policemen, who have recently been crippled and sent to the hospital as the result of accidents, were allowed pay for their lost time by the board. One patrolman was allowed pay for forty-seven days for slipping on a banana peeling and injuring his knee while off duty.

Coal exports from South Wales for 1914 show a decrease of nearly seven million tons as compared with the previous year.

SPINNERS OF COTTON CONVENE IN MEMPHIS

Unanimity of Action Urged by President Hickman, of Augusta.

Memphis, Tenn., April 13.—More than 400 representatives of the cotton mills of the south and east were assembled at the opening session of the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association here today. In addition to these, there was present a large delegation from the membership of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, which comprises the eastern mills.

Addresses by the president, T. J. Hickman, of Augusta, Ga., and E. C. Klipstein, of New York, marked the first meeting. The afternoon was devoted to an inspection of the great cotton terminals here and a boat ride.

Mr. Hickman in his address emphasized the need of more "unanimity of action" on the part of the different interests involved in the production of cotton goods. "The commission merchants should form an organization for mutual advantage and protection, and there should be a more closely knit organization among the mills," he said. He also proposed a mutual organization between the mills and their agents.

The Rotary Club of Birmingham, Ala., was given credit by Mr. Hickman for the formation of the Cotton Products Consumers' League of America.

Mr. Klipstein, of New York, who discussed the present dyestuff situation, declared that a famine in coal tar dyes now was only a question of weeks as a result of restrictions placed on the exportation of dyestuffs from Germany, the chief source of supply. He said the two months' reserve supply which American textile manufacturers held on January 1 is rapidly disappearing.

The establishment of dye factories in the United States eventually will solve the problem, but the erection of the plants necessarily will be slow, said Mr. Klipstein.

"Altogether, we are now approaching the supreme test of our resourcefulness," he declared.

"There never has been a more favorable time for laying the foundation for a coal tar industry in this country than the present," he said. "Patents owned by foreigners on the dyes themselves and their raw materials have run out, leaving the industry free, and the machinery needed also is patent-free. We can produce the raw material in abundance and our technical universities now are giving us thousands of young men fully able to compete with Europeans. Let us trust in the young men."

Josiah T. Rose, of Atlanta, Ga., told the textile manufacturers that "many cherished ideas of the only way to succeed" should be given in the interest of efficiency. He advocated the employment of efficiency experts by all of the mills.

Reports will be read and officers elected at the final session of the convention tomorrow.

JUDGE S. D. DORSEY DEAD

Passes in 93d Year at Home in Lovejoy.

Lovejoy, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—Judge S. D. Dorsey, 92 years of age, and the oldest citizen of this section, died tonight at 8:30 o'clock. His death was due to natural decline. He had resided here all of his life and during the war between the states was judge of the inferior court.

He is survived by two sons, J. G. Dorsey, of Lovejoy, and J. S. Dorsey, of Stockbridge; by two daughters, Mrs. W. T. Fullerton, of Lovejoy, and Mrs. J. L. Edwards, of Hampton. Among Judge Dorsey's great-nephews is Solicitor Hugh Dorsey, of Atlanta.

Judge Dorsey is survived by many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and by two great-great-grandchildren. The latter are Nicholas Meriwether Walker, 5 years old, of Cuthbert, and Jesse Blalock, of Jonesboro.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence and interment will take place in the family burying ground here.

HEAR T. M. A. LOCKER CLUB CASE APRIL 22

Police cases docketed by Police Chief Beavers against Mrs. Minnie Tabarini and John M. McMillan, charging them with operation the T. M. A. association, a locker club, for revenue, when called for trial before Recorder Johnson Tuesday afternoon, was postponed until 3 o'clock Thursday, April 22, due to the illness of Mrs. Tabarini.

Chief Beavers made cases against McMillan and Mrs. Tabarini after the woman had filed a petition in the superior court to force McMillan to give her what she claimed as her share of profits accruing from the operation of the locker club.

When Chief Beavers made city cases against the two on the ground of this petition, Mrs. Tabarini then filed a retraxit, in which she declared that she was under misapprehension when she filed the first petition that the locker club was being operated for revenue.

City Attorney James L. Mayson was on hand to prosecute the police cases for the city, and Harvey Hill was there to represent McMillan and Foster & Allen to represent Mrs. Tabarini.

Many Cotton Mills In England Running On Full Time Now

Market Assuming Normal Condition, Declares Liverpool Man in Letter to Former Partner Now Resident of Atlanta.

That the cotton market is again assuming its normal condition and many mills are now running on full time in England is the news received in Atlanta by John O. Douglas, a native Scotchman, from George Turner, his former business partner in the cotton brokerage business in Liverpool.

In his letter Mr. Turner says:

"The war is slowly coming to an end, and we have good reason in taking a favorable view of the ultimate result. It is generally admitted that we have not yet brought about the united strength of the allies to convince the enemy how strong a wall they will have to face. I gather that this offensive movement will take place in the spring, so we must wait and see.

"The cotton market is gradually recovering its usual form, and the Lancashire spinner is more in evidence. Some mills are running full time, although in many cases it is difficult to keep the machinery going owing to the scarcity of hands. My late firm keeps very busy, but they are very short handed, six having joined the colors. Their places are being kept open for them, and they are receiving full wages all the time, so you see how patriotic we are. I believe the cotton exchanges have added, all told, fully 1,000 men to the British army."

Mr. Douglas came to America approximately thirty years ago, and went to Florida, where he and James Somerville, another Scotchman, established the town of Dunedin, which is the ancient name for Edinburgh, the birthplace of Mr. Douglas and Mr. Somerville. After a number of years in the grocery and dairy business in Florida, Mr. Douglas came to Atlanta, where he has been engaged in similar business for the last twelve or fifteen years.

BODY OF KENTUCKIAN FOUND ON TROT LINE

Bowling Green, Ky., April 13.—The body of A. C. Chapman, aged 61, familiarly known as Lum Chapman, who disappeared from that place several days ago, was found this morning on a trot line in Barren river. An ugly gash on his head leads to the supposition that he met with foul play. Shortly after his disappearance relatives offered a reward of $200. Chapman was a wealthy farmer of Clarke Landing, Ky.

An Unusual Sale of Sterling Silverware

We list below a number of pieces of Sterling silver that go into a sale today at remarkable reductions.

To buy Sterling silver (and every piece bears the Sterling mark) at even a slightly reduced price is much like buying dollars at a discount—note, please, how vigorously the prices have been reduced.

It makes a rather fine opportunity to select wedding gifts—for there is hardly a piece in the sale that is not givable. The limited variety puts a premium upon early shopping.

Society

Miss Jackson in Recital.

A piano recital by Miss Evelyn Jackson will be an interesting event in music, taking place at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the 21st, at the Georgian Terrace.

Miss Jackson, while her musicianship is a recognized fact, has done no recital work for a long time, but her studies abroad last summer, which she has continued through the winter, have revived her attention to concert work.

Her program will be made up largely of Chopin selections.

Admission will be by invitation.

Gentry-Phelan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gentry entertained informally last night at Virginia Manor after the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Gentry and Mr. Graham Phelan. The company included only the bridal party.

The wedding will be a brilliant event of tonight at home.

Dance at the Ansley.

A dance will be given at Hotel Ansley tonight for the benefit of Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R. The chaperons will be Colonel and Mrs. W. L. Peel, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Holleyman, Mr. and Mrs. George Pratt.

Silver Tea.

Mrs. Alva D. Kiser will give a silver tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home in Inman Park for the benefit of Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R.

Afternoon Bridge.

A beautiful event in the series of entertainments in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Morgan was the bridge party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Ruth Lewis.

The reception rooms had artistic decoration in nasturtiis and Calla lilies. The score cards were post cards with bride and groom pictures and the prizes were white and gold chink. The guest of honor was presented a silver case. After the game a delicious luncheon was served at the card tables.

Dancing Party.

A delightful event of the past week was the informal dancing party at which Mr. and Mrs. Oza Blodgett entertained at their apartment in the Mendenhall on Peachtree street Saturday evening. The hostess received her guests wearing heart of rose shade Georgette crepe, with over draperies of black net, introducing cut jet trimmings. Assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kantor, Miss Alice Denton and Miss Tommie Honea. Twenty guests were entertained.

Special Meeting Called.

There will be a special meeting of the Joseph Habersham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the University club Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when news of paramount importance will be announced, pertaining to the new chapter house. A large attendance is urged.

For Unemployed Women.

Miss Mary Hines and her committee who are assisting on the disposal committee of the Emergency Association for Unemployed Women, announce a sale for today at the Emergency association, 19 Auburn avenue, beginning at 10 o'clock and lasting through the day. At the sale all kinds of fancy work will be disposed of, also children's clothing, which has been made under trained direction at the work shop.

Mrs. Davison sold a number of the dresses after the regular meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon. The register is still open to applicants for work and those desiring work. Miss McClellan continues to act as secretary to the organization at 19 Auburn avenue.

Mrs. Beaumont Davison, president of the association, has accepted the chairmanship of the committee recently appointed by Mrs. F. J. McGovern, president, to look into the matter of vocational training as a part of the common school training.

Keelin-Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nathaniel Keelin have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Margie Belle, to Mr. William Batt Griffith, the wedding to take place Thursday afternoon, April 22, at 4 o'clock, at 118 Newbern avenue, Raleigh, N. C.

Club Entertained.

Miss Mildred Hirsch entertained the members of the L. F. club delightfully yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock tea at her home on Washington street.

Pink roses and carnations decorated the tea table. Miss Hirsch wore a becoming gown of green crepe de chine. There were twelve guests.

Suffrage Tea.

A pleasant occasion of last Friday afternoon was the suffrage at home given by Mrs. J. L. Gillette at her home, No. 104 Orange street, for the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association. A good program was prepared by the hostess. Short speeches were made by Mrs. M. L. McLendon, Mrs. E. Everett, Mrs. L. Warner.

W. C. T. U.

The Cigarette at the Bar of Justice will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. Visitors will be cordially welcomed and members are urged to be present, as the county institute will convene on the 20th and many things must be organized and decided.

Dancing Party.

Yaarab Patrol Ball.

An event of the evening will be the Yaarab patrol ball at Druid Hills Golf club, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

"Enoch Arden" Reading.

Mrs. Merrill Hutchinson will read "Enoch Arden" with the musical setting by Richard Strauss today, Wednesday, April 14, at 3:30, at the home of Mrs. J. M. High, 1032 Peachtree road. Admission, 50 cents.

Daffodil Birthday Party.

Little Miss Lucy Thompson entertained a score of her friends on Saturday afternoon at her home on Ashby street.

The ninth birthday of the attractive young hostess was the occasion, and daffodils in profusion formed the decorations. The large gold colored birthday cake with its nine candles was the center of interest in the dining room, where the daffodil color prevailed with pleasing effect.

Among the merry-makers were Elizabeth Crussell, Elizabeth and Lura Chapman, Lucy and Paulin Swann, Grace, Lettie and Frances Morris, Elizabeth Dent, Lamar Lowe, Florence Fox, Ernest Mooree, J. T. Morris, Mason, Marion and Mary Morris and Lucy and Leiah Thompson.

To Miss Morgan.

In compliment to Miss Elizabeth Morgan, Miss Nell Prince will entertain at tea Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bernard Wolff's bridge will be on Tuesday afternoon and Miss Emily Cassin has changed the date of her card party to Thursday morning, the 15th.

BALL AT NEW HOTEL OPENS HOME-COMING WEEK AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The Columbus Home-Coming week festivities were inaugurated tonight with a ball at Hotel Ralston. It was the first function ever given at the new nine-story hotel and was a brilliant event.

Tomorrow at noon a reception will be given on the courthouse lawn in honor of the distinguished visitors present. The governor will speak for Georgia and Congressman Adamson also will made an address. Tomorrow night Judge Adamson will deliver a lecture.

A feature of tomorrow's exercises will be a baby show in which there will be hundreds of entries.

The Columbus motion picture, depicting local history scenes woven into a pretty romance, in which prominent society people took part, is being given at a local theater as a feature of home-coming week, and the performances are largely attended. Street dancing will be on the program every evening, beginning tomorrow night, and keen interest is felt in this feature in which Columbus society will participate. Many former Columbusites have already arrived, and indications are that home-coming week will be a decided success. Ideal spring weather marks the beginning of the celebration.

Wilkinson on Sea Trip.

Mell R. Wilkinson, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, left Monday night for Norfolk, where he will take a sea trip. Just where the cruise will carry Mr. Wilkinson is not known. It is understood that he is acting on the advice of physicians, who considered that the condition of his health necessitated a rest.

INDEPENDENT ICE MEN BACK ANTI-TRUST BILL

Meet in Macon Today to Plan Campaign for Wimberly Measure.

Macon, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—Independent ice dealers of the state will meet in Macon tomorrow for the purpose of discussing the Wimberly anti-trust bill which is pending before the Georgia legislature, which has for its object the curtailment of the alleged ice trust in this state.

There are close to 70 independent ice dealers in Georgia, most of whom are located in the smaller towns of the state, and fully 60 per cent of them have already accepted invitations to be present at the meeting, which has been called by Glenn G. Toole, general manager of a local independent ice company.

The Wimberly bill was introduced at the last session of the legislature by Minter Wimberly, of Macon, but in the rush at the close of the session was permitted to go over to the next session when it will be considered. The ice dealers are to start a campaign in favor of the passage of the bill and believe they will be able to get it through without any great opposition, though they realize the alleged trust will fight it to the finish.

Among the ice dealers who will be present tomorrow will be those from Valdosta, Brunswick, Columbus, Waycross, Athens, Hawkinsville, Eastman, Barnesville, LaGrange, Cedartown, Thomaston, Thomasville, Sandersville, Dawson, Bainbridge, Winder, Newnan and several other places.

To Extend Water Mains.

Macon, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The city of Macon certainly is doing its part in these times of financial depression to make the wheels of industry hum in Macon. In addition to the voting of bonds in the sum of $300,000 for municipal improvements, including the laying of street paving, the total cost of which will be about $350,000, and the building of sewers, at a cost of $50,000, the city water board is now planning a long extension of its mains in South Macon, which will cost at least $15,000. This new main will extend through the newly-annexed territory and, in addition to furnishing work for a large force of men, will also be the means of furnishing a water supply to hundreds of families which now depend on surface wells. Nine fire hydrants will also be placed along the new main, giving fire protection where none now exists.

EASTMAN OIL COMPANY ADMITS INSOLVENCY

Macon, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The Eastman Oil company, of Eastman, against which an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States district court here yesterday, today filed a petition admitting insolvency and giving a schedule of assets and liabilities. According to the schedule the mill owes debts aggregating $68,617.59 and the assets amount to only $36,204. The obligations, most of them in small amounts, are scattered among many creditors. The actual value of the mill and site is placed at $35,000.

EMPIRE LIFE HEARING CONTINUED TO MONDAY

On account of the illness of Judge George L. Bell, who has charge of the demurrer docket, Judge W. D. Ellis yesterday continued the hearing of the Empire Life case until next Monday. Judge Ellis, for the balance of the week, will be occupied in disposing of Judge Bell's unfinished work on the demurrer docket. The receivership hearing for the Empire Life will be resumed next Monday before Judge Ellis.

Big Addition to Plant.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 13.—A $75,000 addition to the plant of the American Zinc Company of Tennessee, at Mascot, 12 miles east of Knoxville, increasing the capacity from 1,150 to 1,800 tons of ore per day, will be begun at once. This construction will give employment to a large number of men. When completed it will increase the annual payroll of $400,000 by more than 25 per cent.

Doubt Thrown on Code.

Columbia, S. C., April 12.—An opinion holding that the code of laws of South Carolina, adopted in 1912, is of doubtful legality because of irregularities in the adoption of it by the general assembly, was made public today by Attorney General Peeples. He mentioned that should the courts hold the code was illegally adopted, the state would be without codified statutory laws until this code is regularly adopted.

PLUMBING BOARD DIES ON TABLE

Ordinance to Create Examining Body Is Laid Away Tuesday by the Ordinance Committee.

The ordinance creating a board of plumbers' inspectors for the city, after being "tossed about with many a conflict and many a doubt" for the past two months, was tabled by the ordinance committee of council Tuesday afternoon by a vote of 3 to 2.

"Goodby to your ordinance, boys," cried Councilman Ashley, the author of the ordinance, to his assembled constituents.

The councilman said he believed that the tabling was equal to defeat.

There appeared before the committee E. M. Horine with a petition signed by every member of the Atlanta Builders, Owners and Managers' association, who own and control all the office buildings and apartment houses in the city. They objected to the passage of the ordinance most strenuously, on the following grounds:

Because the ordinance is not necessary to protect the health and lives of the people, because the present plumbing laws of the city are entirely adequate; because if such a board for examiners was necessary then there should be boards to examine cooks, bricklayers and carpenters, because it would give despotic power to a few men; because competent men who wanted work to support their families might be left without jobs; because there would be an increase of cost of building at a very inopportune time by the reduction of the number of plumbers; because a political board would be created that would be a menace to liberty and good democracy.

Only Wanted Good Work.

Mr. Horine made a talk against the ordinance. He said that such a law would be the most obnoxious piece of legislation imaginable. The people, he said, did not care who did their plumbing so long as it was well done, and that was a plumbing board fully capable to pass on all jobs of plumbing.

Frank A. Pittman, a contractor and builder, made a talk against the ordinance. He said that there could not be advanced one word for the necessity for such a law.

Attorney Aldine Chambers, representing the master plumbers, who favor the ordinance, spoke for the creation of the board. He took the position that "such a board would guarantee that all plumbing work would be done by first-class plumbers. He claimed that many plumbing jobs were now done in the city of which the plumber had no knowledge and such work was often done by incompetent men.

It was stated that the master plumbers were about evenly divided on the ordinance in numbers, but that when it came to financial standing, a large majority is against it.

Mr. Horine, replying to Mr. Chambers, said he believed that a board for the examination of cooks was far more necessary than a board for examining plumbers for the protection of the health and lives of the people.

"Do you really believe that?" asked Councilman Ashley.

"Yes, I do," replied Mr. Horine.

"Go to Cooking," Said Ashley.

"Then, boys," said the councilman, turning to a number of plumbers near him, "you had better go to cooking."

Mr. Horine, in reply to that remark, quoted the following stanza from the poem of Lucile:

"We may live without science and knowledge and books,
But civilized men cannot live without cooks."

Mr. Chambers remarked that what the people really wanted was a law to prevent the plumbers from sending out men who were paid only $1.50 a day and charging the customer $8 a day for the work.

After the arguments and side remarks, Councilman Johnson moved that the ordinance be tabled. He said in support of his motion that he was not satisfied with the ordinance in its present shape and that if it was reported to council it would meet with certain defeat.

The vote stood:

To table—Johnson, Renfroe and Reynolds.

Against tabling—Ashley and Seawright.

BOOSTERS FOR HIGHWAY HOLD MEET AT CAMILLA

Camilla, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—One of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this county occurred this morning when about 500 or 600 citizens and delegates from surrounding counties met at the city hall to form plans to bring the Dixie highway from Albany through Camilla to Thomasville.

Mr. Pringle, chairman of the county commissioners of Thomas county, was elected chairman of the meeting, while J. H. Mock, of Albany, was made secretary.

Short talks were made by F. L. Lewis, E. M. Davis and G. B. Baggs, of Camilla; J. H. Mock, H. A. Tarver and Joe Ehrlich, of Albany; Dr. Culpepper and C. W. Cooper, of Thomasville.

Committees were appointed from the three counties interested to go to Americus on next Thursday, these committees to work up enthusiasm in their counties and get as many others as will to go with them to Americus.

Those pledging themselves to go are as follows: From Dougherty county, Joe Ehrlich, J. H. Mock, A. J. Lippet, H. T. McIntosh, A. P. Vason, R. P. Hall, H. A. Tarver, E. H. Kalmon, H. W. Johnson, P. J. Brown; from Mitchell, W. W. Cullens, J. P. McRee, T. R. Bennett, Dr. Clements, D. B. Turner, D. C. Barrow, A. A. Turner, J. L. Hand, F. L. Lewis, H. H. Merry, F. S. Perry, H. P. Butler, R. G. Jackson, E. E. Wilkes; from Thomas county, J. N. Carter, J. A. Bowers, S. W. Davis, E. R. Jerger, E. M. Smith, C. W. Cooper, H. Williams, R. Shellenberger, W. H. Rockwell, J. B. Jenkins.

Judge W. E. Thomas, who is holding superior court, adjourned for the meeting. Several young ladies were on hand to welcome the delegates and pin Badges on them. The meeting has stirred up enthusiasm more than anything which has occurred here recently, and if this counts for anything Camilla will certainly be on the Dixie highway.

McDONOUGH ENTER LIST TO GET DIXIE HIGHWAY.

McDonough, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—In an organized effort to induce the Dixie highway to come through McDonough, a meeting was held in the courthouse here yesterday afternoon, with Dr. J. G. Smith as chairman. A committee consisting of H. J. Turner, president Farmers and Merchants bank; R. L. Turner, cashier First National Bank; Dr. B. E. Horton, J. T. Weems, H. M. Ames, H. B. Neal and Joe J. Smith was appointed to go over the territory and report the most practical route. A demonstration will then in due time be made in behalf of the highway of the advantages to be derived in this direction. The route, it is claimed, saves fifteen or eighteen miles between Atlanta and Macon, passing, as it does, through McDonough, Jackson and the famous health resort Indian Spring, to Forsyth, including the counties of Henry, Butts and Monroe.

VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY HONORS JEFFERSON

Charlottesville, Va., April 13.—Founder's day was celebrated at the University of Virginia today by the unveiling of a bronze statue of Thomas Jefferson, done by Karl Bitter and presented to the university by Charles R. Crane, of Chicago.

President Alderman announced a gift of $100,000 for a new laboratory, half from John Blackwell Cobb, of New York, and half from a donor whose name was withheld. Mrs. Charles E. Senff, of New York, has given $100,000 to improve the university grounds.

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern railway, was the chief speaker of the day. David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture, presented the Jefferson statue on behalf of Mr. Crane.

Dr. Alderman was congratulated by the speakers on completion of the first decade of his presidency.

Secretary Houston paid tribute to Jefferson as the one man of a century ago who more completely than any other, would, if he were alive, comprehend the present day and fell at home in it.

"Certainly the present desperate situation of the world would seem very familiar to him," said Mr. Houston, "for from the beginning of his official career until its close, Europe was ablaze, as it is now, and our nation was laboring under many handicaps. In the trying and threatening circumstances of his day, he and his great chief, Washington, were determined that this nation should not step into the 'bloody arena,' but they were equally bent on preserving the sovereignty and independence of the nation, 'preferring every consequence to insult and habitual wrong.'

"His plea for strict neutrality," said Mr. Houston, "has a singularly modern character."

YOUNG MILNER BOY IS BURNED TO DEATH PLAYING IN COTTON

Barnesville, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—News was received here this afternoon of the burning to death of the little 5-year-old boy of James M. Sims in a cotton house at his home near Milner. The information is that about thirty bales of cotton were stored in the house where the little child went to play, probably having some matches with him and setting the cotton on fire.

Mr. Sims was on the grand jury at Zebulon, and it appears there was no one there to rescue the child and put out the fire. Great sympathy is expressed for Mr. Sims and his family over the loss of the little child. It is not known whether any insurance was carried on the cotton and other property.

Crisp Convict Caught.

Cordele, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—Charlie Morris, one of the negroes from the Crisp county jail who made their getaway on last Thursday, was captured by police officers last night.

Cottage Is Burned.

Douglas, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—On his large farm, five miles out, owned by the J. D. Smith estate, of Dublin, a cottage was burned Sunday night. No insurance.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad. I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. SOCIETY

To Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.

The visit in Atlanta yesterday of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Suffrage association, was marked socially by an afternoon reception in her honor at Hotel Ansley and a luncheon at Druid Hills.

For the reception from 4 to 6 o'clock the three local suffrage organizations invited as hostesses the three presidents—Mrs. M. L. McLendon, Mrs. Emily McDougald and Mrs. F. S. Whiteside, receiving with Dr. Shaw, and a large company of Dr. Shaw's admirers in Atlanta were assembled to meet her.

Mrs. J. J. Goodrum, Jr., and Miss Eleanor Raoul were hostesses at luncheon at Druid Hills, when covers were laid for twelve, the guests including Atlanta women prominent in various progressive movements of women.

Spring flowers were used in artistic arrangement, and the places were marked by corsage bouquets.

MEETINGS

The Atlanta Woman Suffrage league will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Carnegie library. Mrs. Eugene Mitchell, president, presiding.

Study Circle No. 1, Atlanta Drama league, will meet as usual, Thursday morning, April 15, at 11 o'clock, in Carnegie library. The beautiful Italian drama, "La Gioconda," by Gabriele D'Annunzio, will be the lesson for the day. All interested are invited.

The monthly meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Missionary association, supporting the travelers' aid work, will be held at the Central Congregational church, corner Elbis street and Carnegie way, on Wednesday, April 14, at 10 o'clock. All ladies interested are cordially invited.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurse association Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

FIRST BLOOD DRAWN BY FLORIDA PROHIS

Tallahassee, Fla., April 13.—The lower house of the legislature this afternoon, by a vote of 55 to 14, passed a resolution calling for submission to the voters, at the general election in 1916, a constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition, such amendment, if adopted, to become effective October 1, 1917.

The resolution was certified to the senate, which will take it up tomorrow. There will be a hard fight made on it in the senate.

Eat Less Meat and More Spaghetti

Some meat is essential if we are to have a properly balanced food. But most of us eat too much meat. Meat is a dear food. It contains a large proportion of water and from a standpoint of nutrition, there are foods of greater economic value.

Take Ralph Spaghetti. It costs 10c a large package. It is made of Durum wheat and is therefore rich in gluten—the food element that builds up muscle and tissue.

Another important thing: the system absorbs Faust spaghetti almost in its entirety, which means that there is practically no waste to this excellent food.

Easy to prepare, easy to digest, Faust spaghetti may be served in many appetizing dishes. Try it.

English Singers Presented At Brilliant Reception

Brilliant in social and artistic interest was the reception given last night by Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton at the mansion, the occasion assembling one hundred guests.

The evening's entertainment was provided by Misses Dorothy, Rosalind and Cynthia Fuller, of Dorsetshire, England, artists of delightful attainment, and charming young women, who sang old ballads and folk songs of England, Ireland and Scotland to Irish harp accompaniment.

They wore English country costumes of a picturesque period, and their songs were as sweet and intimate as bird songs, and ranged all the gamut of "songs from the heart," as folk music has been called.

From lively to severe, their selections were received with enthusiastic appreciation.

Beautiful decoration in all the flowers of spring made fittingly picturesque setting for so charming an entertainment. Pink and white blossoms, the hothouse flowers and growing plants and the fruit blooms, as well, decked some of the parlors, and in others jonquils and yellow jessamine in baskets and vases made gay bursts of color.

In the dining room a bowl of fruit punch was set in the midst of jessamine vine, and yellow was the basis for a pretty decorative plan.

A buffet supper was served after the program.

Mrs. Slaton wore an elegant toilet of ivory satin, brocaded in velvet flowers in pale shades of pink and mauve and green, its trimming of crystal net. Mrs. W. D. Grant wore taupe net beaded in blue and crystal and draped over lavender charmeuse.

RECOURSE PLANNED BY JITNEY OWNERS

President Kelley's Statement.

George B. Kelley, president and manager of the Jitney Bus company, when seen by a reporter of The Constitution last night and asked about the ordinance which will be presented to council and upon which the people will be given the right to vote if it is not passed by council, said:

"Yes, we have drawn up an ordinance that we believe will meet every requirement and which we think the people will indorse. It is modeled after an ordinance now in force in Kansas City, only we have made the license considerably higher. In Kansas City the license for cars carrying under ten passengers is only $7.50, and for cars carrying over ten passengers $12.50. Our ordinance makes the license for cars carrying under ten passengers in Atlanta $25 and larger cars $50 a year. In Washington, D. C., the jitney bus law is very short and simple. There the license per annum is only $6 a year for any car. The routes are named, insurance indemnity carried and financial responsibility furnished. I believe that any fair-minded man, which he has read the law we propose for Atlanta, will vote for it."

Provisions of Proposed Ordinance.

The ordinance that is to be proposed by the Jitney Bus company carries the following provisions:

The bond to be paid an annual license, $25 for each car with a capacity of ten passengers or under, not including the chauffeur and conductor, and $50 for each car that carries over ten passengers.

Application shall be made to council, in which full details of the company's financial standing must be given.

A bond for $1,000 shall be furnished if the company does not carry liability insurance.

In each car there shall be displayed the designation and route, the state license number and the name of the owner.

The company must file with the city clerk the name, age and residence of each driver, who must be over 21 years of age, and skilled as a driver.

Each driver must carry a certificate from the chief of police.

The company must pay a merchants license for operating the buses.

When a chauffeur is convicted in the recorder's court for violating any of the road ordinances he shall, upon a first conviction be suspended ten days; upon a second conviction be suspended thirty day, and upon a third conviction have his license revoked.

All cars must be provided with non-skidding devices. Cars must be well built and kept in good condition and in neat appearance and be made safe for the passengers.

All cars can be inspected by the police whenever he wishes so to do.

INJUNCTION ASKED BY "JITNEY" CLUB

The city of Atlanta was temporarily restrained by Judge W. D. Ellis Tuesday from enforcing the new ordinance which goes into effect this morning and which regulates the operation of jitney buses.

The injunction followed an application filed by thirty "jitney bus" operators comprising the "Jitney Bus" club. The city will be forced to show cause why the law should be enforced at a public hearing set for next Monday.

The petition is based on the charge that the new ordinance is "discriminatory, unfair, partial, unreasonable, oppressive and confiscatory." It is likewise accused of being unconstitutional and passed for the "jitney" men say but before they admit defeat in the court fight, they will carry the appeal to the United States supreme court.

Claimed Unconstitutional.

A number of clauses in the petition were inserted with a view to insuring an appeal to the federal courts in event the "jitney" people lost in the Georgia courts. Paragraph 11, of the petition, reads: "That said ordinance is null and void and that it is in violation of the constitution of the United States."

In paragraph 9, the petitioners allege the enforcement of this ordinance will virtually result in the destruction of the "jitney bus" business.

The Restraining Order.

Judge Ellis' restraining order is as follows:

"It is ordered that the city of Atlanta, its officers and agents, be restrained from enforcing, attempting to enforce or put into effect the provisions of the ordinance referred to in the foregoing petition until the hearing.

"It is further ordered that the city of Atlanta show cause before me on the 19th of April, why injunction should not be granted as prayed and such further relief be granted petitioners as the court may see fit and proper.

"W. D. Ellis, judge superior court, Fulton county."

The names of the men comprising the Jitney Bus club, contained in the petition, are: J. F. Hazleton, John G. Fate, J. C. Wright, C. L. Williams, M. D. Hayes, W. T. West, A. B. Thompson, W. H. Hardin, S. E. Schlesinger, H. J. Holbrook, O. S. Anderson, C. L. Whitehead, B. L. Himond, J. A. Allen, Harry O. Dean, W. A. Royal, A. L. Satterwhite, M. R. Sample, Holder & Manning, R. F. Campbell, A. T. Elliott, R. E. Pettis, J. M. Hand, R. G. Gallmard, G. W. White, J. T. Allen, W. E. Hughes, J. J. Gwinn, Hugh McMahon, J. L. Ramsey, King Stillman, John Cipriano and R. J. Williams.

There are still 100 or more operators in the city, however, who have not taken advantage of the "Jitney Bus" club membership, and will be forced to find some other means than the present injunction to forestall the city's ordinance.

The "jitney buses" coming under the club membership will continue operation until the hearing before Judge Ellis Monday.

Lincoln Memorial Service.

The First Congregational church, colored, Rev. H. H. Proctor, pastor, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln Wednesday night, April 14, 1915, at 8 o'clock. There will be addresses by Dr. J. W. Blosser, Professor E. H. Webster, Bishop H. M. Turner and Samuel Hamilton. Admission will be free and everybody is invited.

FOR LOCAL AUTONOMY GARRISON MAKES PLEA

At Jefferson Birthday Dinner. Senator Lewis Lauds President Wilson.

New York, April 13.—Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, made a strong plea for local autonomy in government in an address on democracy at the annual Jefferson birthday dinner of the National Democratic club tonight. Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, also a speaker, eulogized President Wilson and said he did not believe the president would consent to become a candidate for re-election if all his policies had been executed into laws.

Democrats were present from all parts of the country. Some of the most widely known were Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president; Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky; Senator Charles F. Johnson, of Maine; Representative J. Thomas Heflin, of Alabama; Morgan J. O'Brien, Charles F. Murphy and John M. Riehle.

Secretary Garrison maintained that the state should attend to its duties and that it should not usurp city powers. He said national problems should occupy the attention of the federal government.

Lewis on "The Republic."

In his address on "The Republic," during which he reviewed the work of the democratic administration and paid a strong tribute to President Wilson, Senator Lewis said:

"I now make bold to say that President Wilson never has had in his mind the selfish object of taking a reward for the execution of his promises to the people by seeking renomination as a compensation, or asking for reelection as a return for the discharge of his obligation to his party and his duty to his country.

"Speaking of my own sentiments, I dare say that if the president can have all the policies to which he is pledged to the people executed into laws and could be then left to his free will, he not only would not be a candidate for re-election, but in justice to the sacred grief which has afflicted him, and the sweet and tender obligations which still rest upon him, would abandon public office for the private refuge of home, family and friends.

Executed His Pledges.

"He would be found, I am sure, pointing his countrymen to the fact that he had executed his pledges, given the nation the relief it sought, restored it to peace and security, put it up on the pathway of prosperity and progress, and then declined to take another term in office that it may be evidence before the world that what he did was for the cause of right, and not for the hope of reward, and to demonstrate before the nation that a man can unselfishly serve his countrymen without having as the object of such action a return compensation.

"He would give proof how a patriot could decline to accept honors tendered as reward for faithful discharge of obligations due by a public servant to his country. He would be glad to point to the fact that he had complied with his obligations and realized the sentiment of his party, expressed in the platform, of one term unless exigencies of public welfare called for his accepting another."

Others who spoke were Senator Johnson and Representative Heflin.

MEN AND WOMEN ARE BUTCHERED

following statement, received from General Nafarrate's headquarters:

"The Villistas lost 300 men killed, that number so far gathered by our forces, and there are still some on the field. Our forces captured thirty prisoners who are now in the Matamoros jail; about 200 horses, a large amount of ammunition for cannon, rapid-firing guns and a large number of carbines. We also captured all the Villista supplies of food this side of Las Rucias. Our men derailed a Villista train loaded with food supplies, ready evidently for a dash into Matamoros. The train is now being guarded by our men."

Each of the 1,500 Carranza soldiers who participated in the sortie wore a red band on his hat so that he should not be mistaken by his comrades for a Villa soldier. The red bands proved very valuable, because much of the fighting was hand-to-hand, the men splitting into small groups which fought other small groups in and around clumps of sharp-thorned bushes. The Carranza forces claim they surprised the Villa outposts slaughtering cattle for breakfast.

INTEREST IS KEEN AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, April 13.—The state department telegraphed tonight to its consular agents in the vicinity of Celaya and Irapuato for more definite information on the military situation. Interest in the outcome of the impending battle between Villa and Obregon is keen here, as the question of communications with Mexico City from the border and the relief of many interior towns short of food is at stake.

Early reports from George C. Carothers, consular agent at Villa's headquarters, said that the Villa forces had withdrawn after the opening skirmishes. This was taken generally to mean in official quarters that the Carranza victory in the opening struggle were confirmed.

"A report dated April 12 from Irapuato," the department's summary says, "stated that General Villa was still at the front and that the battle would begin again after the troops had had a good rest."

VILLA MINING RULES PROTESTED BY BRITAIN.

London, April 13.—The foreign office has instructed the British charge d'affairs at Mexico City to protest to Villa against the new mining regulations promulgated by the Villa regime. The foreign office took this action on receipt of advices from the charge that the mining regulations in question amounted virtually to confiscation of foreign mining interests.

Washington, April 13.—In response to inquiries from the state department, Villa authorities at Chihuahua have given assurances that the new mining regulations are intended to prevent the purchase of idle mining properties by speculators, and that there is no intention of injuring "all legitimate mining industries."

Mrs. Atherton Not Seriously Ill

New York, April 13.—Reports that Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the novelist, was seriously ill here, were denied tonight by her physician, who said that Mrs. Atherton was suffering from a mild attack of pneumonia and that there was no reason for apprehension.

BAR TO UNVEIL BUST LATE SOLICITOR HILL

Memorial Placed in Fulton Courthouse—Distinguished Lawyers Will Speak.

A memorial bust of the late Charles D. Hill, for many years solicitor general of the superior criminal court of Fulton county, will be unveiled next Saturday morning, April 17, at 11 o'clock.

The exercises will be held in the courtroom of Judge Benjamin H. Hill, where the bust is to stand. Judge Hill is a brother of the late solicitor.

Lowry Arnold, solicitor of the city court, will preside and the following addresses will be made:

For the nisi prius bench, Judge John Pendleton; for the Atlanta Bar association, Shepard Bryan, president of the association; for the Georgia Bar association, Samuel S. Bennett, of Albany, president of the state association; for the American Bar association, Peter W. Meldrim, of Savannah, president of the American association; for the appellate bench, Judge Marcus W. Beck, of the same court; for the Atlanta bar and the friends of Charles D. Hill throughout the state, Reuben R. Arnold.

All courts will adjourn Saturday fifteen minutes before 11 o'clock.

Harrison Jones, chairman; Marion Smith, Linton C. Hopkins, E. C. Hill, Lamar Hill, Clarence Bell, W. D. Ellis, Jr., J. A. Branch, Daniel MacDougald, Hughes Spalding, H. M. Patty, J. W. Crenshaw, L. ALL ART TREASURES REMOVED FROM VENICE

Paris, April 13.—The Temps says that Italy has removed all the art treasures from the museums and churches of Venice to Florence in the belief that an Austrian fleet would bombard Venice if war were declared. The newspaper says the transfer took place at night, that the population might not be alarmed.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids. Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks, who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Shakespearean Lovers Interested In Coming of Ben Greet Players

The visit next Monday of the Ben Greet Woodland Players to the campus of Georgia Tech for an open air performance of "As You Like It" has caused a sort of Shakespearean revival in Atlanta. Not only Tech, but all the leading educational institutions of the city and environs are interested in the approaching event, and it was the subject of interested discussion yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Drama league at the Georgian Terrace, when Rev. Dr. W. W. Memminger and Dr. Samuel Stewart Wallace discussed the meaning and importance of the dramatic movement which Mr. Greet and his associates represent.

"It was twelve years ago," says Dr. Wallace, "that Mr. Greet came to America with his charming company of English youth and maidens, for his out-door presentations of Shakespeare's pastoral plays.

"In England the company had acted much at Oxford, Cambridge, London's Botanical Gardens under the patronage and presence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, at Carisbrooke castle on the Isle of Wight, and at the most beautiful ancestral homes of 'Shakespeare's England' — Lowther Lodge, Wilton Park, where 'As You Like It' is said to have been written and first acted; Ashbridge, where Princess Elizabeth lived before she became queen; Royston and Warwick castle.

At Columbia University.

"The first pastoral given by the actors in America was at Columbia university, and they have since become known from the east coast to the west for their out-of-door plays. At the earliest sign of summer these woodland players take leave of glaring footlights and artificial scenery which are tolerated as necessary evils in the winter season's indoor Elizabethan productions and begin their pastoral life.

"The simplicity and joyousness which are the dominant notes in the pastoral art of the Ben Greet Players reflect faithfully the spirit of their forest life. For the men and women of this merry land find happiness in the world's simplest and almost forgotten sources in the feel of the good brown earth, in the companionship of silent growing things, in wind and sunshine and the pageantry of a setting sun. The company being almost entirely English, its members have that love of outdoor life and things which is inherent in their countrymen, and their fondness for the open has made them practiced to a degree we Americans have not yet attained in being happy and comfortable when out-of-doors.

Artistic Possibilities.

"Mr. Greet's idea of playing Shakespeare out-of-doors was inspired not less by his interest in a revival of true Elizabethan presentations than by the artistic possibilities of pastoral art. Recognizing the superiority of natural scenery to artificial, of real trees and sky to painted ones; and appreciating the poetic value of forest settings for Shakespeare's forest folk, Mr. Greet has achieved by perfectly simple means an art which, though stripped of every convention, is at once exquisite and satisfying.

"'With Mr. Greet the play's the thing,' and the performance must exploit the play, rather than some one or two leading players.

"'I have no stars,' says Mr. Greet, 'we all work for the ensemble, for we know that the whole is no stronger than its weakest part; the result is both strength and unity.'

"The artistic success achieved by Mr. Greet and his players entirely without the aid of artificial means, and by sheer strength of the poetic and joyous spirit which marks their treatment of these pastoral plays is the more significant in view of the dependency of both modern and classical productions upon spectacular effects."

To Miss Kuehnle.

Mrs. Cobb Caldwell gave a beautiful luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club yesterday, the occasion a compliment to Mrs. Charles M. Remsden's guests, Miss Lydia Belle Kuehnle, of Denison, Iowa.

In the party were Miss Kuehnle, Mrs. Remsen, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, Mrs. Frank Adair, Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson, Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, Miss Leone Ladson, Mrs. Vaughan Nixon.

The table decoration was in the prettiest of the spring colors—pink and light blue, lavender and yellow, the centerpiece a basket of sweet peas, hydrangeas, stock and daffodils.

Tea-Dance.

Dancing will be on the terrace this afternoon at the tea-dance at the Driving club, if the weather permits. Mrs. J. O. Mathewson will entertain for Miss Eliza Duney, of Baltimore, the guest of Mrs. Robert C. Alston.

Mrs. Jerome Simmons, Jr., will have as the guest of honor in her party Miss Lydia Belle Kuehnle, of Dennison, Iowa, who is visiting Mrs. Charles Remsen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gray, of Chicago, will be entertained by Mrs. J. C. Simmons, Sr.

Others having parties will be Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles, Mrs. Margaret Gunn Taylor, of Macon, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, and Mrs. S. B. Naff, Mr. Horton Mathewson.

Social Service Training Class Lecture.

The social service training class of the Anti-Tuberculosis association will be addressed by Dr. W. B. Summerall, superintendent of the Grady hospital, today and next Wednesday, at 708 Gould building, from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

The subject of the address will be "Hospital Social Service." All who are interested in this subject are invited to be present.

Church Entertainment.

The Christian Endeavor society of Emanuel Congregational church, at the corner of Stewart and Lillian avenues, cordially invites the public to a concert and social, to be given at the church, this evening at 8 o'clock. A voluntary silver offering will be taken to defray the expenses of the delegate from the society to the state Christian Endeavor convention at Fitzgerald, April 18 to 20.

Why I Buy at Home

"CORNFIELD HAMS"
White Provision Co.

Because my interests are here.

Because I want to see the goods I am buying.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because my home merchant will take care of me when I run short of cash.

Because the merchant I buy from pays his share of the town and county taxes.

Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.

Because the home merchant I buy from stands back of his goods, thus always giving value received.

Because the merchant I buy from helps support our poor and needy, our schools, churches, our lodges and homes.

Because some part of every dollar I spend at home stays at home, and helps work for the welfare of the town and the country.

Because if ill luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the merchant I buy from is here with his kindly expression of greeting, his word of cheer, and, if needed, his pocketbook.

"Aragon" brand of Shirts, Pants or Overalls, made by the A. M. Robinson Co., are the equal—if not the superior—of any similar goods on the market.

"Kennesaw" Biscuit, the product of the Frank E. Block Co., has been standard goods for years. Baked right here at home—in a model bakery—where hundreds of men and women are given employment.

The F. O. Stone Baking Co. is producing six kinds of delicious Cakes—all wrapped—and there is none better on the market. They are the "Home-made kind with the trouble left out," and you can get them at your grocer's.

"Red Seal" Shoes will convince you by comparison of their style, quality and value. If your retailer doesn't handle them, suggest to him the convenience of a home product, where there will be a saving to him in freight, which should be an advantage to you. Made by the J. K. Orr Shoe Co.

"Capitola" Flour is known, liked and used in thousands of homes in the south. Are you one of the users? If not, why not? The manufacturers—the Atlanta Milling Co.—are also makers of "Miss Dixie" Self-Rising Flour—absolutely pure—and a great favorite with thousands of housekeepers. Call for either of them at your grocer's.

If you have not tasted "Cornfield" Hams, Bacon or Shoulders, you have missed a rare treat. The White Provision Co., packers, employ hundreds of people in its plant, and the popularity of the "Cornfield" brand is growing daily. Tell your grocer—or butcher—that you want this sweet, delicious meat, prepared right here at home. If he hasn't got it, see that he gets it.

GERMAN SYMPATHY FOR LOSS OF THE F-4

Washington, April 13.—Captain Boyed, naval attache of the German embassy here, sent this letter today to Secretary Daniels:

"Assuming that the last hope that anybody is still alive in the ill-fated submarine F-4 must now be abandoned, I beg to express the deepest sympathy of the imperial German navy and myself for the deplorable loss of so many brave officers and men. They died in loyal fulfillment of their patriotic duty. Accept, Mr. Secretary, the assurance of my perfect consideration."

MISERY IN HEAD AND BACK

A Lady Writes She Suffered So, Would Have to Stay in Bed For Days—Is Now Well.

Cartersville, Ga.—The following is from Mrs. Will T. Lawhon, of Cartersville: "I am writing this because I want other women to know what Cardui has done for me.

Before I commenced taking Cardui, I had headache so bad, I would have to stay in bed for days at a time. I suffered untold misery with my head and back.

I saw Cardui advertised and decided to try it. I took three bottles. After taking the first bottle, I could see a vast difference in my feelings, and decided to take the second, and took three in all.

After taking the third bottle I felt like a new woman altogether, and I will always praise Cardui as a boon to woman's ills.

I believe it saved my life and I am now a well, healthy woman, and my husband joins me in my praise for Cardui.

Before I began taking Cardui, I was irregular, but since I began taking it, I have been regular and without any pain.

Everyone tells me I am the picture of health since taking Cardui. I will recommend it to every suffering woman."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic, why not give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial? Begin today.

Chancellor Barrow Guest of University Club Last Night

Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, after a delightful reception tendered him at the University club by the graduates of the university and the different organizations that hold their meetings at the club, delivered a most capable and entertaining lecture, entitled "Box Borders."

Dr. Barrow likened the planting of seeds in gardens to the planting of deeds in life, and stressed the importance of permanence in one's existence.

"In planning your lives, plan them for eternity. Make enduring preparation. Make your life a garden spot in the land in which you live. Above all, make it permanent. Mark its walk with box and leave it a blessing to those who follow," said the speaker.

"There is not abroad the thought of permanence. Yet this is the characteristic which makes a country. Next to its people and largely, very largely, affecting the character of its people, is the effort to attain stability. Build to the soil. Plant box borders.

"It has been said that the box border requires at least three generations to bring it to perfection," said Dr. Barrow. "It is said that at least that much time is required for a gentleman."

Dr. Barrow closed with his "Rule of Life. "Think of the things that are with patience; think of the things to come with hope, and remember that all things have their limitations."

In the receiving party were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wimbish, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Worsham, Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Matheson, Mr. and Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. A. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones, Dr. and Mrs. James N. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Peeples, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schoen, Mr. and Mrs. Ten Eyck Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stephens, Mr. Frank Martin, Mr. Thomas Whipple Connally, Mr. Hal Hentz, Mr. C. P. Pottinger, Mr. Warren Moise, Miss Bessie Kempton, Miss Cleveland Zahner and Madame Slifer.

TELEGRAPH BUSINESS BEING INVESTIGATED

Postal and Western Union Officials Tell Why They Object to Union of Operators.

Chicago, April 13.—Views on the commercial telegraph business, under inquiry by the federal commission on industrial relations, were presented today from widely divergent angles.

The witnesses included S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America; Belvidere Brooks, vice president and former general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company; Henry Lynch, an operator who claimed his unionism forced him into exile in Winnipeg, Canada, to find work; H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers; Edgar G. Barrett, a Western Union employee who confessed himself a former special agent or "spotter," and Edward G. Reynolds, general manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company.

Why Brooks Opposes the Union.

Mr. Brooks made plain his opposition to the Commercial Telegraphers' union, as at present constituted.

"I will not say that we object to the present officials, but that inference may be drawn," he remarked. "Thirty years ago our company opposed the union, but just prior to 1907, when a strike was called which cost us $5,000,000, the union became rejuvenated, and we made no protest. Then came strike talk and we offered arbitration. On June 20, 1907, through the instrumentality of Dr. Neil, commissioner of labor, and participated in by Mr. Perham and Mr. Konenkamp, then a member of the executive committee of the union, S. J. Small was president, an agreement was reached. The very next day a strike was called in San Francisco, which eventually spread all over the country. Since then we have not cared to employ men interested in the union.

"We cannot deal with an organization like that as we could do with one headed by a man like Mr. Perham or Commissioner Garretson," he said. The witness added he did not consider wages high enough.

Mr. Perham took the stand to explain that when the strike was called S. J. Small was on the Pacific coast and could not be reached with news of the agreement, and the men in San Francisco walked out in ignorance of it. Commissioner Alshton asked if it would be possible for Mr. Perham's executive committee to make so important an agreement and leave him in ignorance of it. The witness thought not.

Reynolds Tells of Postal Methods.

Mr. Reynolds said the welfare of the Postal company employees was his personal and special consideration. There is a union within the company, he said, officers of which take up grievances with the head of the company. Vacations with pay are allowed and there is a benefit system.

In 1907 members of the Commercial Telegraphers' union were employed by us, but the strike was foreshadowed when the union men began coercive tactics. They made errors for the purpose of placing their non-union companions in a bad light and when they struck they did so without having made a single complaint or demand to the company," said the witness.

"We were merely informed that they had been ordered out. It damaged the company greatly and would have wrecked it had not some old-timers like myself been able still to send the Morse alphabet."

Mr. Reynolds disagreed with the Western Union witnesses on the wage question.

"They are paid as much now as they would be able to earn in any other line of endeavor," he said. He added that he had led in fighting loan sharks, from whom the men were chronic sufferers, and had provided sanitary working quarters for employees.

"Our men are satisfied, absolutely," he concluded.

Story of "Spotter."

Barrett said that while engaged as a "spotter" he visited various cities, but Oklahoma was the only place where he found union men and so reported to the company's chief special agent. To get the information he joined the union.

"I used honest methods to get the information," he asserted. Commissioner O'Connell then read to him his application for membership. It bound the member to keep faith with fellow members, to do nothing to injure them, and contained other pledges of loyalty.

"I didn't read all that stuff. A blank was shoved at me and I signed it without reading," said Barrett.

Mr. Lynch said he was dismissed by the Postal Telegraph company, where he had an unblemished record, for attending an open union meeting. He applied again and again for work with the Western Union, where he said he had a previous good record, but was put off until he concluded employment in the United States was impossible.

He was asked why he didn't get work on a railroad, and replied that the pay was too low.

CHARGE F. J. TURNER PASSED BAD CHECKS

On the charge of having forged a number of checks, F. J. Turner, age 22, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Detective Chewning at his boarding house, No. 62 Walton street.

Besides a large number of small checks, Turner is alleged to have forged checks on T. K. Pappas, who operates a soda stand at Auburn avenue and Ivy street, and on the Dixie Drug company, forging the name of D. J. Gunter.

The detectives say that Turner was arrested several months ago on this same charge and later released because he had just married and the prosecutors did not wish to break up the young couple's honeymoon which had been planned.

BIG FILM CONCERN OPENS OFFICES HERE

Atlanta offices have been opened by the Vitagraph-Lubin-Selig-Essanay, Inc., distributing releases of the four big studios whose names are borne in the incorporation title. The office was opened Monday at 45 Walton street under the direction of Walter W. Irwin, general manager. W. C. Brandon, a well-know picture expert of Atlanta, has been named branch manager.

INVITE OFFICIALS GUESTS OF HONOR MILITARY PAGEANT

Invitations were extended Tuesday to Governor Slaton, Mayor Woodward, Sheriff Mangum and Adjutant General Van Holt Nash to occupy boxes as honor guests at the musical and military pageant which Battery B, of the national guard of Georgia, will give tomorrow night at the Atlanta theater to raise funds for taking the battery to San Francisco.

Miss Rose Hooper, who will be Queen Flora in the throne room scene in the first act, will occupy with the princesses of her court seats in the boxes after the first part of the program.

SUFFRAGE MEETING FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The Georgia Young People's Suffrage association will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parlors of the Ansley hotel. A good program has been arranged for the afternoon. Leonard J. Grossman, president of the Georgia Men's League for Woman's Suffrage, will address the association.

Mrs. Jonte DeJournette, of Rome, Ga., will be the speaker of the afternoon. A group of songs will be given by Edwin Lee. Every one interested is cordially invited.

HONORS FOR LINCOLN ORDERED BY WILSON

Flags to Be Half-Masted on Federal Buildings on Anniversary of Death.

Washington, April 13.—President Wilson tonight signed the following executive order providing that fitting observance be given to the anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln, who died fifty years ago next Thursday:

"As an evidence of the profound affection of the American people for the memory of Abraham Lincoln, it is hereby ordered that the executive offices of the United States shall be closed and that the national flag be displayed at half-mast upon all federal buildings and at all forts and military posts and naval stations and on all vessels of the United States, and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall in like manner pay appropriate tribute to his memory, on Thursday, April 15, 1915, the fiftieth anniversary of his death.

"The owners and masters of all merchant ships of the United States are requested similarly to display the national flag at half-mast.

"WOODROW WILSON."

AMERICAN WOMEN SAIL FOR HAGUE CONFERENCE

New York, April 13.—Forty women delegates to the international women's peace conference at The Hague sailed for Rotterdam today on the Noordam.

A huge peace flag floated from the masthead of the Noordam today as the delegates, headed by Miss Jane Addams, went on board.

The flag was a snow white pennant bearing the word "Peace" in blue letters. It was given by Mayor Mitchel, of New York. "We cannot give what a foreign submarine will do at the sight of a new flag to attack," said Miss Addams, "but we are secure in our conviction to do what we can for peace."

In the party were Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, the English suffragist; Miss Alice Carpenter, Miss Mary Chamberlain, Mrs. Frank Cothren, Miss Madeline Z. Doty and Miss Leonora O'Reilly, New York; Mrs. George Bubles, Washington; Miss Sophonisba Breckenridge, Chicago; Mrs. Grace Abbott, Dr. Alice Hamilton, Miss Rebecca Shelly, Miss Grace Wales, University of Wisconsin; Miss Grace de Graff, Portland, Ore.; Mme. Aino Malmberg, member of the Finnish parliament; Miss Marian Craig Wentworth, Mrs. Louis F. Post, Miss Jennie Molloy, Boston, representing the telephone operators' union, and Mrs. Rose French, San Francisco.

Capital City Club Ex-Presidents Favor Brookhaven Purchase

Believed Now That the Entire Membership Will Be Unanimous for Exercising Option.

Plans for the formal taking over of the Brookhaven estates as the permanent country club of the Capital City club, are being discussed with marked interest by the members, and the final action on the matter at the forthcoming annual meeting of the club in May, will, it is generally believed, be unanimous in favor of exercising the amended option held by the club.

Significant of the general approval of the plan is its indorsement by every living ex-president, including Colonel Robert J. Lowry, Dr. W. S. Elkin, Albert Howell, Jr., John W. Grant and Robert F. Maddox, also the present president, W. T. Gentry, who is warmly advocating the proposed plan.

The Brookhaven estates have for two years been the leased property of the Capital City club, with option to buy. It furnishes every advantage of the country club to the members, and covers a site marked as one of the most beautiful in this section of the country, and particularly adapted for club purposes and out of door sports.

According to the revised offer of the Brookhaven estates, through Charles P. Glover, the effect will be to reduce the Capital City club's purchase price of 150 acres, from $100,000 to $80,000, to be paid for in twenty-year bonds.

The members generally seem to be highly pleased that the club can be enlarged, remodeled and in many ways improved without any cash outlay on the part of the club, at the same time giving the members the advantage of two clubs, one in the city and one in the country, without extra assessment or increased dues.

Four Outlaws Hanged.

Douglas, Ariz., April 13.—Dermos Lermos, one of the most notorious outlaws of the Arizona-Sonora border, was hanged yesterday with three companions forty miles east of Agua Prieta, by a border patrol of General Calles' forces. The four were driving sixty stolen cattle to the hills when captured. Lermos is said to have been wanted by Arizona authorities.

To Test Constitutionality Of Ordinance on Sale Of Underweight Calves

Joe Pylant, a merchant of Buckhead, Ga., was fined $25 and costs by Recorder Johnson at police court Tuesday afternoon on a charge of violating the new city ordinance governing the sale of calves that are underweight.

Jerome Simmons, Jr., the defendant's attorney, asked Recorder Johnson to assess a certiorari bond in order that his decision might be appealed to the higher court to test the constitutionality of the ordinance.

City Attorney James L. Mayson prosecuted the case against Pylant, which was made by Sanitary Meat Inspector Wasser, who testified that Pete Pappas, proprietor of the Manhattan cafe, on Marietta street, had ordered over the telephone tife calf from Pylant at Buckhead.

Pylant admitted killing and dressing the calf, which weighed nearly 40 pounds below specifications, and bringing it to the Manhattan cafe. However, the defense maintained that Inspector Wasser interfered with the sale before it was actually made, holding that the inspector told Pappas that if he bought the dressed calf he would be violating the law.

THE KINDERGARTEN WORK.

The recommendation made by Miss Laura Smith, supervisor of elementary work in the public schools of Atlanta, that the kindergarten be incorporated as an integral part of the school system, was the most interesting feature of the twentieth annual meeting of the Kindergarten Association of Atlanta with the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon.

Miss Smith stressed particularly the economic value of the kindergarten training for the child, which, she said, gave him a year's training before he entered the elementary department of the grammar school, and made it possible for the grammar school to complete its course in six years instead of seven. She saw the theory of the system tested in the Normal Training school of Chicago university, and she saw it successfully put into practice in many of the best school systems of this country. The kindergarten, she said, gave the child his first initiative, and he entered the elementary department of the grammar school ready to do something with both his brain and his hand, and not waiting to have something put into both.

Barring the scientific value of the kindergarten from its educational significance, and its relation to the character building of the child, Miss Smith saw in it the medium of discipline which the child needed to tide him over the period between the nursery and the school.

The kindergarten is especially an institution for the school systems of industrial centers, Miss Smith stated, where large numbers of children are thrown upon their own protection before they are of school age.

The kindergarten, she ably argued, was a department of education which the state as well as the city should incorporate in the common school system, and which the United States department of education was pleading for as the most necessary factor in the elementary training of the child.

RURAL BETTERMENT.

The conference of southern women to hold simultaneously with the Southern Conference of Education and Industry in Chattanooga, the last week of April, will give the women leaders who attend the opportunity to look carefully into the duplication of work in many directions which is threatening to weaken the forces of the organized women of the south.

Country life and rural betterment is one of the most fascinating subjects to women as well as men organized for any form of educational or industrial betterment. It is a subject upon which much theorizing is done, and one which requires both theory and practice to accomplish results. It requires first and foremost a knowledge of the people who are to be helped—knowledge possessed by comparatively few.

There is scarcely a woman's state organization in Georgia that has not a department looking to rural betterment. Conventions are held where the subject is featured; where women read excellent papers on what should and should not be done; where conditions are emotionally pictured, and good will, sympathy, and even funds are generously forthcoming. The government is lending an active hand in the same direction, and yet there is every evidence that the rural woman who most needs aid is not getting it, even the woman very near the towns and villages where women are actively engaged in some form or other of rural betterment. National organizations of women of other sections are offering their co-operation in solving the problem of the rural women in the south. Yet the results of all these organized movements and exploitations are not commensurate with the effort. Much time and money is consumed in conventions and meetings, and plans made, with no follow-up action, and the people about whom the well-disposed meet and talk and exchange information are not being directly enough reached.

It is timely that the women leaders of southern organizations carrying in their program departments looking to country life and rural betterment face the facts of just what their accomplishment in this direction is proving; avoid duplicative effort and investigate wherein they could concentrate force, with each organization taking some defined department of the work to do.

One organization might work directly through the school, another might through the church. One might pursue aid through rural libraries; another through a department looking to encouragement of the dairy products on the part of women; another to their better understanding of the household arts, each organization having a specifically good department of work, not interfering with or duplicating that of another.

The boys' corn club and the girls' canning club are every day proving their value, and making for a generation of better farmers, and more competent housewives, proving their concentrated effort and organization under competent direction.

The farmer is being more directly reached each day by the agencies organized to help him. The children are being reached by the schools gradually evolving a system of rational training for the rural child as well as by government and state aid through clubs and similar movements, but the rural woman of today, and the mother of the future rural citizen, is not being successfully reached.

Plans looking to that noble end would distinguish the forthcoming conference of women in Chattanooga, if they accomplished nothing else.

ON TO THE GAME!

Everybody and his office boy will be as near as he can get to a front seat in Ponce de Leon Park this afternoon, for Atlanta is out for the attendance record, and means to have it.

Today is "play" day. Atlanta can well afford to play now and then, and there is no better incentive to it than the opening ball game. And all the vigor of the Atlanta spirit will be put into it, just as it is put into business.

Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, merchants, Ad Men's club have dipped into the play, determined to make it the biggest baseball day Atlanta has ever known. Some of the merchants are so enthusiastic that they are closing their stores for the afternoon to go with their employees and help swell this record attendance. With plenty of spirit and voices in good trim, they will make it the "big day" at the ball park.

It is a healthy sign. When a city can enter so heartily into play, from president down to office boy, there is unquestionably a substantial underlying foundation that makes for better building, better business and better men.

Let everybody who can do it go to the game today. It's a good escape valve for surplus enthusiasm. For the moment the game's the thing; then back to business with storage batteries renewed for a bigger and better day's work!

PEACHES.

There should be no material cause for disappointment or worry over the report that 50 per cent of the peaches were killed by the March freeze. If 50 per cent of the prospective crop of peaches is left, Georgia will have one of the largest yields the state has ever known. It is not to be anticipated, of course, that it will reach the unprecedented record of last year, when nearly 8,600 cars were shipped, but it is a safe conclusion that it will be considerably more than half, and possibly 75 per cent of the 1914 crop.

Peach trees this year were masses of blooms, sometimes so thick it was impossible to discern the twig at short distance. If the tree had been forced to attempt to bring all this burden of fruit to maturity its limbs would have broken under the strain. The freeze, which sometimes does serious damage, is nature's agency for relieving the tree of part of its burden. That relief this year will mean a good crop of better fruit. Then, too, new orchards are just coming into bearing, and, altogether, the outlook is for one of the most favorable fruit years on record.

Both consumer and producer will fare better, for it will mean better fruit for the former and better prices for the latter. There is no advantage to Georgia in shipping north and east carload after carload of fruit which scarcely pay the freight charges; the state has known such seasons. Present prospects indicate a crop that will meet the demands of the market at fair prices, leaving a reasonable profit in the pocket of the producer; and that is the healthiest condition which any industry can experience.

Where the Angels Smile at You.

Southwind a-wavin' the blossoms overhead,
While the corn is just a-climbin' to bring my daily bread.

Green fields and bright fields
Where toilers soon'll reap,
And birds in the branches
To sing my soul to sleep.

O the breath of blossoms—Words where wild-flowers throng!
O that life were dreaming—dreams a whole life long!

Toiling and toiling in a world so bright
Sometimes think that Paradise has given all its light!

Hills, plains and valleys
Fair in heaven's sight,
On a bed of blossoms
Lost in dreams and light.

How He Explained It.

"I proposesh 'cordin' to my lights," the Dallyville prophet explained, "about the worl' coming to a end when the big war broke out, but, bein' only human, I didn't land it. But it's all clear to me now. It's my opinion that Providence decided it was best to let 'em fight it out a while longer till they beat some sense in each other's heads. They ain't fitten to go to judgement now, but soon as they're able to tell why they went to war an' what in thunder they're fightin' for they'll be called on to explain."

The Only Chance.

Step aside from Tribulation,
Soon again you'll see him frown.
Only chance for your salvation
Trample Tribulation down!

Spite o' thunder
Keep him under

Planting keen thorns in your crown;
Like he leads you to his crosses
Trample Tribulation down.

Black storm blowin'
Where he goin'?—
Trample Tribulation down.

As "Uncle Judd" Sees It.

Judd Lewis sings in his Houston Post column of the end of every man's desire:

"This is the end of every man's desire: A cozy seat beside a glowing fire when winter winds are raging out of doors; a gentle wife to cook and do the chores, like splitting wood and milking cows, and then a shady tree when summer comes again, and a sweet wife to bring one's pipes and books and take off fish and bait the waiting hooks, and a soft bed when call the whippoorwills, and someone else to pay up all one's bills."

Never fear your fate;
Chariot-wheels are humming,
Joy is at the gate!

As She Saw It.

The Kansas City Star tells this story of a class in journalism:

"A young woman in the journalism class at K. U. was asked how she would go about it to get the news of a fire in a distant part of town, late at night, after the street cars had stopped running. 'Well,' she replied, 'I suppose I'd have to call a taxi and go to the thing, but personally I don't think any editor who is a gentleman would make a girl go to a fire at such a time in the night.'"

LOVE AND FOLLY

The golden links of Cupid's chain
Are seldom rent asunder;
But Love is blind, and it is plain
He sometimes makes a blunder.

They say it was quite otherwise;
But Love got drunk and jolly
At Bachhus' feast, and lost his eyes
In a scrap with thoughtless Folly.

Then Venus raved, and Jove decreed
That for an act so stupid
Rash Folly should forever lead
The little blind god, Cupid.

SYMPTOMS.

A man can read an almanac, and learn that he is sick; then he will groan about his back, in which he's found a crick. Before he read that book of dole, he never knew a smart; he was a hale and healthy soul, with sunshine in his heart. But now he hangs about his coop, his head bent to his knees; he has the symptoms of the croup, of hoof and mouth disease. A man as sound as Adam's ox, when "symptoms" get his goat, will purchase nostrums by the box, and send them down his throat. Of grievous aches and pains he'll whine, as sunny days go by, and go into a slow decline, and of his symptoms die. The "symptoms" fiend will cough three times, and to the drugstore skip, and blow for done his hard-earned simes, and say, "I have the grip!" And when his cough has pulled its freight, "I still am sick," says he; "my present symptoms indicate I have the housemaid's knee!" Our cares are much like pains and aches which keep that fellow sore; the most of them are flimsy fakes—just symptoms, nothing more. We wear away our little lives, and weep and walk the floor, and rend our beards and beat our wives for shadows, nothing more.

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The Hawaiian islands are located in the middle of the Pacific ocean 2,000 miles from the San Francisco exposition, and occupy so much space in the atlas and the headlines that the reader would naturally imagine them to be of imposing extent.

Nothing is farther from the truth. The Hawaiian archipelago doesn't contain enough land to make a respectable Texas cattle ranch. It is only half the size of Belgium, and most of it is devoted exclusively to the production of volcanos and lava beds. If the city of New York were placed on Oahu, the most important of the islands, several wards would get exceedingly wet at high tide.

Altogether the Hawaiian islands contain 6,500 square miles, divided into eight principal islands. For so small a patch of ground, it has contributed mightily to history and tourist literature in the last fifty years.

The Hawaiian islands are noted principally for climate, natives and volcanos. The climate is so encouraging that anything can be grown, and Hawaii is a sort of national hothouse. All tropical products except boa constrictors flourish there and seven steamship lines are kept busy hauling Hawaiian sugar to this country.

Hawaii also contains the largest and one of the best behaved volcanos on earth, Mauna Loa. This volcano and its mate, Kilauea, are over 13,000 feet high and have craters several miles across. They are located on a separate island. If Sicily had done this with Mount Aetna much trouble would have been saved.

Hawaii is also famous for its natives who are gentle, ingenious, musical and much more orderly than whites, not having had a real war for many decades. The Hawaiian native is the best swimmer in the world, and one of the poorest business men. The race has lived on the islands many hundred years and has only accumulated, thus far, about one-thousandth of the land and a pair of trousers apiece.

The islands have a population of over 260,000, including 75,000 Japanese, 25,000 natives, 25,000 Portuguese, 15,000 Chinese, 12,000 Germans and enough Americans to run the bunch—several thousand. Honolulu is a fine town of 50,000 people, with a baseball league and a United States judge.

The Hawaiian islands were owned by Queen Lilliokalani, but revolted in the early nineties and tried to break into the United States. After being kept on the waiting list for many years they were admitted in 1898. Those American nations who fear the grabbing propensities of Uncle Sam should consider Hawaii's history and make their application early for admission to this great country. It will take them years to prove their eligibility.

ED BRUFFEY, REPORTER

(From The Journal of Labor.)

What a sly old rascal is Time! He comes snooping and sneaking behind us, blows his wintry breath upon our locks, and frost is born therein. He catches us in careless mood and dares us to feats of endeavor fitted only for the young and supple, and when we take his dare he wraps his icy fingers round our knees or ankles, and rheumatism marks us for its own.

But when a man marches past the meridian of life with stout heart, unafraid of the gathering darkness, unregretful of the life behind, willing to take whatever gifts the gods provide, secure in the knowledge of a life reasonably well spent, the old rascal Time has to take it out in frosting locks and crippling joints—for such a man is young at heart, and will be young until the Great Comforter shall bid him to his well-earned rest.

And that is how we felt and what we thought when we read in The Constitution the other day that Ed Bruffey was 61 years of age. We knew he was not as agile as once he was—physically; we knew his hair had silvered. But we know his heart is young, his brain is active, his newspaper instinct as acute as ever, his intuition as strong as any woman's, and we didn't care whether the years had waxed and waned a score of years, or fourscore, or more, Ed Bruffey was to us the Ed Bruffey of old, who knew a story instinctively, who could cover anything from a three-alarm fire to a race riot, from a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to a faction-rent convention, and do it as it should be done, and as it was not done so far back.

Ed Bruffey was born to the purple of the Fourth Estate, for he was a printer in the days when we assembled the leaden messengers of thought one by one. He was one of that galaxy who knew the states from one end to the other. He was a delegate perennial to that great parliament—the "distribution hours"—on a morning newspaper when brilliant men clashed to the intellectual advantage of all. And then, full of experience, he stepped through the now closed hawse hole into the cabin and became a newspaper man—without having to live down the stigma of starting as a journalist.

And from that day on he has been part of a public institution—The Atlanta Constitution, the keeper of the southern ark of the covenant at a time when principles were being abandoned for profit or fame in too many quarters.

Bruffey has seen a veritable procession of journalistic genius come and go through the portals of The Constitution. He has seen the building of a journalistic conscience that today ought to be a sectional asset. He has been a part of that institution, and he has borne himself worthily—and now he is a part of The Constitution and The Constitution is a part of him.

Now, let old Time, the robber, be put upon notice that the register he keeps is a deceptive one—in this instance at least—for Ed Bruffey's heart is young, his courage unabated, his zeal as strong as ever, and what he lacks of vulgar physical power he makes up in discernment, discretion and experience.

Plans to Secure Grand Lodge Are Outlined by Atlanta Elks

Atlanta's hat is in the ring for the 1916 grand lodge meeting of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks. It was put there last night by the advisory committee of Atlanta lodge No. 78, and the big ball was started rolling toward an event that will rival and may surpass the great imperial council meeting of Shriners here last May.

The committee indorsed and ratified formally the action of the lodge in deciding to invite the grand lodge. It authorized Chairman Walter P. Andrews to name a steering committee of seven to perfect a complete organization for winning the favor of the grand lodge session in Los Angeles this summer and to prepare for the entertainment of the great host that's coming next year. Elaborately engraved invitations will be addressed at once to every one of the 1,400 lodges in the United States, to all officers and past officers of the grand lodge, and to all district deputies, conveying Atlanta's courtesy through them to every one of the 450,000 members of the order and asking their acceptance of the city's hospitality.

"Fifty-four thousand Elks were registered at headquarters in Portland, Ore., when the grand lodge met there," Chairman Andrews told the committee last night. "The parade passed one point for five hours and the end never did go by. I believe if we can win the 1916 meeting for Atlanta it will be greater than any the grand lodge ever has held; and I'm confident we can win."

Chairman Andrews said Baltimore, Atlanta's most formidable rival, already has sent out its formal invitations and started its fight.

The matter of subscriptions to the entertainment fund was canvassed carefully. Every member of the committee was confident there will be no question of raising $75,000 or more when the proper time arrives. Work on this phase of the big undertaking was deferred until the grand lodge has accepted Atlanta's invitation.

The committee, fifty strong, decided to go in a body to the Waycross meeting next month of the state association of Elks. All of the twenty-nine lodges in Georgia will be represented there, and every one of them is expected to get behind the movement just inaugurated by Atlanta lodge.

Following is the membership of the Atlanta lodge committee: Martin F. Amorous, George E. Allgard, John S. Candler, George R. Donovan, W. S. Elkin, Jr., A. D. Greenfield, E. H. Goodhart, B. Mifflin Hood, Edwin P. Johnson, J. S. Moss, St. Elmo Massengale, F. W. Patterson, W. A. Roane, John D. Simmons, A. H. Van Dyke, Walter P. Andrews, J. Lee Barnes, John S. Cohen, S. Einstein, W. P. Fain, R. A. Gordon, T. R. Gentry, George M. Hope, W. S. Howard, Max Kuhr, C. H. Mason, Leslie Moore, Frederic J. Paxon, John M. Slaton, Hoke Smith, Walter C. Taylor, F. E. Vander Veer, C. S. Winn, W. T. Waters, Jr., P. S. Arkwright, J. P. Billing, A. L. Dunn, C. H. Essig, A. L. Gellman, Fred Geissler, Jacob H. Hirsch, H. C. Heinze, Fred Houser, W. J. Lowenstein, R. F. Maddox, R. E. O'Donnell, Myer Rozenstein, W. O. Stamps, S. B. Turman and J. J. Woodside.

Program Has Been Announced For Supply and Sewerage Conference

The plans for the approaching Water Supply and Sewerage conference on April 19-20 next are rapidly maturing. The mayors of Georgia have been asked to appoint delegates and replies are coming in. There is a wide recognition of the importance of the meeting and of the university's effort to aid the state through this discussion of fundamental sanitary matters.

One of the products of the meeting will doubtless be an expression of sentiment regarding a closer state control of water supply and sewage pollution of streams.

The conference will hold its session in Peabody hall on the university campus. The conference opens on Monday at 3 p. m. Three business sessions are planned, a smoker and social gathering follows the evening session on Monday and an automobile visit to the Athens plant will be made on Tuesday.

Monday Afternoon Session, 3:10 p. m.

Captain J. W. Barnett, city engineer of Athens, presiding.

Words of welcome by Mayor W. F. Dorsey and Chancellor David C. Barrow.

"A Typical Water and Sewer Plant for a Small Georgia City," by Mr. P. H. Norcross, M. Am. Soc. C. E., Atlanta.

Questions and short three-minute discussions by E. M. Hall, Nisbet Wingfield, J. B. High, H. N. Hurt, P. A. Dallis, C. D. Flanigen, C. M. Strahan, G. F. Harley, W. E. Hall, R. D. Kneale, T. H. Winchester, G. H. Sargent, T. P. Branch, W. E. Merck, S. B. Slack, Captain E. C. Conant, Keiffer Lindsey, J. P. Tigg, E. L. Griggs, Dr. D. H. Dupree, Dr. J. P. Proctor, D. L. Custon, and other prominent engineers and officials.

Monday Evening, 8:15 p. m.

Captain R. M. Clayton, consulting engineer, of Atlanta, presiding.

"A Word on the Functions of the State Board," by Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary state board of health.

"A Message on Sanitation From New England," by Mr. Leonard Metcalf, consulting hydraulic and sanitary engineer, of Boston, Mass.

Discussion by Mayor Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville; Dr. H. V. Black, Dr. J. C. Bloomfield, Dr. H. C. White, Captain J. J. Gaillard, Captain Nisbet Wingfield, Mr. C. J. Hood and others.

Adjourning at 9:45, the conference will enjoy a smoker and social, and meet members of the university faculty and of the Athens Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday Morning Session, 9 a. m.

Captain J. J. Gaillard, city engineer of Macon, presiding.

Questions and Short Discussions, by Captain J. J. Gaillard, P. H. Norcross, B. M. Hall, W. A. Hansell, J. W. Barnett, C. M. Strahan, G. W. Hubbard and others.

At 12:45 the members of the conference will be taken in automobiles to visit the Athens waterworks and hypochlorite plant and to view the attractions of the Classic City.

TASTED LIKE BOILED MULE.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

When General Nelson A. Miles was down in Galveston after the terrible disaster which almost destroyed that city about fourteen years ago, he was amused by the story of an old farmer who lived a few miles from that city. The military authorities, whose possessions had been scattered by the storm, sent soldiers out over the country to collect as much of the stores as were in proper condition. Now, the gunpowder was put up in long slips of rolled paper like a cigarette a yard long, or an immensely elongated stick of macaroni. Whole boxes of this were blown by the wind over the farms in the vicinity of Galveston and one of the guards one day found several of these boxes in the possession of a farmer. The old man was much averse to giving up the property which he regarded much as the fishers along a shore look upon salvage from the sea. But at last, when the private had pitched the boxes into his wagon and was driving away, the old fellow shook his fist at the victorious soldier and pointing at the packages, exclaimed in an angry voice: "Take your durned old macaroni! I don't want it anyway. My wife cooked some one day and it tasted like a boiled mule!"

IRISH SPINNING SONG.

There was an oul' trooper went riding by
On the road to Carricknabauna.
And sorrow is better to sing than to cry
On the way to Carricknabauna!
And as the oul' trooper went riding on
He heard this sung by a crone, a crone
On the road to Carricknabauna!

"I'd spread my cloak for you, young lad,
Were it only the breadth of a farthen!
And if your mind was as good as your word,
In troth, it's you I'd rather!
And before we go any farther
Carry me up to the top of the hill
And show me Carricknabauna!"

"Carricknabauna, Carricknabauna,
Would you show me Carricknabauna?
I lost a horse at Cruckmoylinn—
At the Cross of Banbury I dropped a limb—
But I left my youth on the crown of the hill
Over by Carricknabauna!"

Girls, young girls, the rush-light is done.
What will I do when my thread is spun
—Padraic Colum, in Poetry.

(From The Ohio State Journal.)

Here is a man who wants four dreadnaughts built every year—he is an admiral; here is another who wants myriads of aeroplanes in the United States army—he is president of the United States aviation reserve corps; here is another who thinks it a crime to let our munitions of war run so low—he is interested in a powder factory out east. And so one might go over all the great schemes for spending money and find in every case the people pressing them expect some of the money. In nine-tenths of the schemes for promoting the general welfare by large appropriations it will be found that the most diligent promotors, at some stage of the game, will share in the perquisites. This fact is important, for if a man is interested in a scheme his influence in behalf of it should be lessened in proportion to this interest. Every organized lobby that represents an interest may consult the public good, but it is an after consideration.

$1,250,000 AN HOUR, BIG WARSHIP'S LIMIT

(London Correspondence in The New York Tribune.)

According to a writer in The War Budget, published today, it would cost the Queen Elizabeth, Britain's new super-dreadnaught, which has been working havoc among the forts of the Dardanelles, $1,250,000 if she were to fight all her guns to full capacity for one hour. The Lion, flagship of Admiral Beatty, used up cordite and shell to the value of about $375 every minute she emptied one of her 13.5-inch guns at the Blucher.

THE RELIC HUNTERS.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

Curio dealers from England and from the continent are reported to be in the vicinity of battlefields in northern France endeavoring to buy trophies of the war which they hope in time may be valuable. They find, it is said, some difficulty in driving bargains. Amateurs who have come into possession of trophies hold them for high prices or will not sell on any consideration. It is recalled that after the American civil war came to an end a bookseller in the Bermudas whom the cargoes of the blockade runners in the harbor at Hamilton were sold at auction bought a number of package gases without the least knowledge of their contents. Among these were several boxes of brass buttons consigned to the confederate army for use on soldiers' uniforms. Some twenty years later tourists discovered these old confederate buttons. A New York dealer made a high bid for the entire supply. This bid was refused and these buttons for which in the succeeding years have a small fraction of a cent was paid have been selling at 75 cents and $1 each.

WAR TROPHIES AT THE INVALIDES.

(From The London Telegraph.)

The exhibition of war trophies at the Invalides will soon be opened to the public. Already certain spoils of war have arrived—two 105 howitzers and no less than twenty-four German seventy-seven centimeters. These guns are to be placed in the court of honor. Within the museum itself will be ranged a couple of German machine guns and numerous stands of rifles, sabers and lances. Room will be found, too, for a captured Taube, and we are promised later an entire section devoted to German machines, aeroplane motors and bombs. With a no less keen though different kind of interest, Parisians will contemplate a French aeroplane, a wounded veteran, the wings of which are riddled with shot and shell fragments. Vivid sketches hurriedly roughed out by artists at the front between one charge and another will form the nucleus of a war salon.

SENDS FLOUR TO HIS MOTHER.

(From The Pittsburg Gazette-Times.)

On Wednesday a young man went to a Pittsburg grocery and bought a small quantity of flour. He stipulated that, with the container, it should weigh no more than nine pounds, and he wished it to weigh no less. He arranged for its shipment by parcel post to his mother in Austria, explaining that she needed it, and only by mail could he respond to her necessities. The postage was $1.42.

On the same day general notice was given by the United States postoffice department that food forwarded by mail to belligerent territory must go at sender's risk. There is no assurance of delivery.

"Pathetic as is the incident of this young Austrian, there is a hopeful significance in it. When so small a quantity of flour is sent so great a distance at so large cost, in an effort to avert starvation, it is the beginning of the end for the dogs of war.

THIS YEAR'S COTTON ACREAGE.

(From The New York Post.)

Among the estimates as to what the cut in cotton acreage will be, it has been reported that the Texas farmers mean to reduce their acreage 25 per cent, while Oklahoma will probably make a cut of 50 per cent. Advices from Alabama say that the state will probably reduce its acreage 25 per cent, and, moreover, that 50 per cent less fertilizer will be used. It is said that the farmers of that state had not meant to make so large a cut, but were urged to do so by the merchants who supply their wants.

Secretary Bryan says it will take him several years to reply to newspaper criticism. The chances are, however, that the newspapers can keep several years ahead of him.

WOMAN WITH VOTE MAY PREVENT WAR

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Suffrage Leader, Tells Atlanta Audience Why Women Want Vote.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, who was introduced last night at the Auditorium as the "foremost of forward-looking American women," pleaded with every American democrat to change the present government of a "sex aristocracy" to that of a republic. She declared that one of the two fetiches retarding the world's progress today, the divine right of sex, would be settled by the common sense of the American citizen, while the other, the divine right of kings, was being settled on the plains of Flanders.

Dr. Shaw said that the greatest crime of the present war was its crime against the unborn generation of Europe by daily killing thousands of the better men of the enlisted nations. "Where is the consistency of men questioning what we know about war?" she exclaimed, "when we alone possess the courage that can face the tragedy of motherhood? We do not want the ballot because we are women and because we desire to fight, but in order that we may keep men from fighting."

The audience listening to the eloquent address concerning the cause of woman's suffrage almost filled the Auditorium. A large number present were men who applauded heartily Dr. Shaw's arraignment of what she styled "inconsistencies of the present so-called republican form of government. Many of the colleges and schools in and about Atlanta heard the lecture.

White Indorses Movement.

Dr. Shaw was introduced by Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church. He said, in part: "To move the home closer to the ballot box and consider its welfare the concern of politics as it is of religion, to stimualte the appeal of conscience to husbands, sons and brothers when they vote, through the fellowship of wives, daughters and sisters who vote by their side, to prohibit traffics that degrade men and placarad all despolling business in terms of dishonor, to make war possible only when peace would be a greater evil and the sorrow of war the lesser sorrow, this, my friends, is the moral dignity of the woman suffrage movement."

"No one can deny that the founders of this government of ours were sound and sincere," said Dr. Shaw, "but they have changed its form five times without attaining a true democracy. They have in each instance maintained that insuperable barrier of sex between woman's qualification to vote and the theory of a republican government. And now, after suffering these evolutions, and even standing back for the 'negro's hour,' the woman of America finds herself on a lower level, politically, than the women of any other civilized nation. The German, the French and the Englishwoman receives her government from men of her nationality, and finds a genuine pleasure in it, but here we are ruled by men of every race, free-born and former slaves, learned and illiterate.

"Men know that they cannot face the truth of our present status, so they give their ideas about it instead. In saying that the voice of the people is the voice of God they have forgotten the soprano voice and submit the consent and the dissent of the governed to a bass solo.

Why Women Want Vote.

"Men are reasonable and rational when they talk with each other, but when they talk of women they usurp our privilege of being the sentimental sex and commence with the stars and go upward. They assume as facts many things which exist only in fancy and look upon woman not as a human being, but as a mother, a sister or a wife, as fine, a relation. We women want the vote not because we are women, but because we are human beings.

"The good fathers of our country are so persistent in wishing to put us women on a pedestal that our skirts, as they say, may not be spoiled in the mire of politics. A live man on a pedestal is not a 'thing of beauty and a joy forever' and we women do not like the position either. Three graces on a monument may be a work of art, but, as the inconsistence of our government has classified us, we stand with the idiot, the lunatic, the alien and the minor.

Wants to Be Policeman.

"Would women hold office? Personally I have always desired to be an office holder since spending three years in the slums of Boston. I would, if I could, be a policeman. In reply to the question of many if I could knock a man down and take him to jail, I say that the prevention of crime is the higher duty of a patrolman than the exercise of strength.

"Would women sit on juries? There is many a woman who stands all day at a washtub who would appreciate sitting as a juryman at $2 per day and who could fulfill the duty as well as her brother. But all absurdities aside, this would depend on the case to be tried. There are 6,000 young girls who every year go out from their homes and never come back and there are men and women of this country who grow fat on the earnings of their virtue who would rather face the devil himself than be tried by a jury of mothers.

"Would women fight for the national honor if they should vote? If a foreign nation should send its ships full of men to our shores we should expect you men to go out and grapple with them. If on the other hand that nation should send its transports over here full of women, we would meet them in New York harbor, invite them to the Metropolitan opera house and talk the matter over. It might take days of conferences, but there would be no one killed and there would be no boisterous emotionalism like seen every four years in the republican and democratic national conventions. The woman's suffrage movement stands for systematic disarmament of the nations, for it holds that preparedness for war is an incentive to war."

GRIFFIN'S NEW STATION

Handsome Building to Be Finished in Few Days.

Griffin, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—Work upon the construction of Griffin's new passenger station is nearing completion and will be ready for the traveling public within the next few days.

This is one of the handsomest stations along the line of the Central of Georgia railway. It is built of red pressed brick with ornamental trimmings of gray stone, has large waiting rooms, gentleman's smoker, ladies' room, drinking fountains and all conveniences. The building will cost about $30,000.

In addition to the new station the Southern Express building and Parker News stand, nearby, are to be substantially improved at an early date.

E. J. Parham Dead.

Griffin, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—E. J. Parham, a well-known citizen, who died at the hospital in this city last night following a long illness, was buried in Barnesville today. Mr. Parham was 36 years old and is survived by a wife and one son.

Chautauqua Signed Up.

Griffin, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The Woman's club today signed a contract for securing the Redpath Chautauqua attractions for Griffin for the week, May 14-21.

Wins Pigeon Prizes.

Griffin, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—J. A. Stewart, of this city, who has an exhibit at the Dixie Pigeon show at Columbus, won thirty-six specials and three sweepstakes, taking everything in the Cauneaux class. There are twenty-five exhibitors at the Columbus show, the largest single exhibit being that of Mr. Stewart's with 31 birds representing 28 varieties. In his exhibit are a pair of Red Cauneaux, for which he has refused $150; there is another pair in the show on which is placed a valuation of $200. Mr. Stewart values his exhibit at $2,000, and it is estimated that the exhibition from a monetary standpoint ranges from $15,000 to $20,000.

WILL MEET TO DISCUSS GORDON STREET REPAIRS

On account of the seeming indifference of county and city officials relative to repairing Gordon street, West End, an indignation meeting of the citizens of the seventh ward will be held Thursday evening in the auditorium of Lee Street school. J. N. Renfroe, chairman of the street committee of council; Sam Hurt, chief of construction, and W. Tom Winn, T. J. Hightower and Oscar Mills, members of the board of county commissioners, have been invited to be present.

Streets in various sections of the city, seventh warders say, have been placed in good condition through the co-operation of the city and county, with no expense to the property owners. The seventh ward citizens wish to know why they are called upon to pay an assessment upon their property for the repairing of Gordon street, when, they claim, so improvements have been made.

HIGHWAYMEN FOILED BUT SHOOT VICTIM

Returning home last night at 11 o'clock, H. C. Hull, 391 Simpson street, was held up by two negroes at the corner of Davis street and Jones avenue, and but for the fact that he had his gun, it is believed they would have robbed him. After being knocked down he pulled his gun and fired. Officers later trailed the negroes by blood on the sidewalk and it is believed at least one of the shots took effect.

One of the negroes opened fire on Hull and one bullet took effect in his left arm. He called the police, but says he got no response until an hour later, when officers Austin and Wood began an investigation.

GOVERNMENT PAYS RISK ON STEAMER EVELYN

Washington, April 13.—The government war risk insurance bureau paid its first claim today for losses due to the European war. A treasury warrant for $401,000 was drawn in favor of Harriss-Irby & Vose, of New York, owners of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk off the Holland coast, supposedly by a mine, February 20.

The bureau to date has earned premiums amounting to $1,453,000 out of a total of premiums paid up to April 7, amounting to $1,735,000. The government is expected to salvage some of the Evelyn's cargo and reduce its net loss.

MOORE MEMBER BOARD OF THE ATLANTA CLUB

Richard Moore, Jr., won out as a member of the board of governors in the election which was held for officers of the Atlanta club yesterday. This was the only race in which there was hot competition. Mr. Moore was opposed by J. R. Vaughn, Jr. Mr. Moore won by a vote of 77 to 56. He will serve two years.

Grand Opera to Bring Botta, Star Lyric Tenor, to Atlanta

Luca Botta, who will be seen in Atlanta this year, is a newcomer in the Metropolitan Opera company.

For the last five or six years General Manager Gatti-Casazza has been searching far and wide for an Italian lyric tenor who would be up to the standar demanded by this great operatic institution. One after another has been engaged. Some of them lasted through a season, just tolerated; others retired even before the season had closed. This time Mr. Gatti-Casazza picked "a winner" in Luca Botta.

Nobody in New York knew anything about him and when the evening came for him to make his debut the general feeling was that the public was going to "get another lemon." But Mr. Botta had not finished his first phrase before the skeptical audience sit up and began to take notice.

"Is it possible!" they exclaimed. "Can we believe our ears." "Why have we never heard this man before?"

The fact was that Botta's voice recalled the voice of Caruso in his early days. There was volume and sweetness and a fine sense of musical feeling.

Mr. Botta made a genuine sensation and he has been adding to his popularity week by week. At last the difficult problem of an Italian lyric tenor had been solved.

Mr. Botta, although only 26 years of age, with but two years' previous experience on the stage, is going to break the record of the last five years and be re-engaged for future seasons. He is personally a charming young man and comes from Naples, where his people are well to do.

He happened to be born at the family villa on the slopes of that picturesque town of Amalfi, whose beauties are known to every American tourist who has visited the peninsula of Sorrento.

It is he who will be heard as the Duke in "Rigoletto" and as the young lover in "The Love of Three Kings."

HIGHWAYMAN PLIES TRADE IN FRONT OF THE POLICE STATION

While the special investigating committee of the police board was in session last night a clever thief plied his trade directly in front of police barracks.

The "dip" stole $16 from the pocket of Sam Moore, a negro, who was walking past police barracks. Sam felt someone tug at his pocket and looked in time to see a man walking away with his pocket book.

He proceeded to Call Officers E. B. Hassell and George Maddox, who were sitting in the rotunda of police headquarters, and the trio in hot pursuit chased the "dip" down Decatur street. He was overtaken after a few blocks. He gave the name of Jim Smith, aged 22, and said he was from an eastern city.

In addition to this robbery, Dr. Baxter Avood, of 97 Peachtree street, reported that a daylight burglar had ransacked his home and stolen over $200 worth of jewelry, which included several valuable watches.

Mrs. John Campbell, of 50 West Peachtree street, reported that a burglar had broken into her basement and robbed the gas meter of $6.

Lee Douglas complained to Chief Beavers that plumbing thieves were becoming a nuisance to him, and that they were continually robbing his vacant houses of plumbing.

George W. Witham, of 88 Williams street, reported that an auto thief had stolen his Ford automobile from in front of St. Luke's Episcopal church, on Peachtree street.

PERSONAL WORKERS' LEAGUE ADDS MANY MEMBERS TO CHURCH

According to the Rev. A. Mathewson, president of the Evangelical Ministers' association, 72 persons were received into six evangelical churches of the city during the week ending April 11. This statement is based upon the first report of the Personal Workers' league, which was organized April 4, and has pledged itself to evangelistic work for the year.

The number received on profession of faith was 51. Those received by letter were 92. Ninety-three were received by application.

Below is the first report of the Personal Workers' league of all the evangelical churches of Atlanta, organized April 4, and pledged to simultaneous evangelistic work for the year:

The report is for the week ending Sunday, April 11: Baptist, 46; Methodist, 140; Christian, 16; Lutheran, 13; Presbyterian, 36; Episcopal 1.

Family of Fifteen Pups Give Bird Dog Mother Trouble at Meal Time

Like the proverbial old woman who lived in a shoe is the bird dog, Nell, belonging to E. P. Johnson, of Redan, for Nell has so many children that she doesn't know what to do. Her family consists of fifteen new puppies, which is twice the size of the usual canine family.

Meal time presents a great problem to Nell for while there are fifteen hungry children in her family, there are, so to speak, but ten seats at the family dinner table. The result is a real boarding house scramble.

1916 PROHI CONVENTION FOR THE TWIN CITIES

Chicago, April 13.—The national committee of the prohibition party today selected the Twin Cities, St. Paul and Minneapolis, as the meeting place of the 1916 prohibition convention, July 19 was the date set.

The convention really will be a mass meeting of prohibitionists. Delegates to represent different states are to be chosen after the opening of the convention. The members of the national committee said today that efforts would be made to get 100,000 prohibitionists to attend the mass convention.

Eugene Chafin, twice candidate of the prohibition party for president of the United States, said today that conditions throughout the world presaged a big gain for the prohibitionists in 1916.

EAST POINT DEGREE TEAM IN IMPORTANT ROLE AT CONVENTION

Athens, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The East Point Camp degree team, uniformed rank number 702, Woodmen of the World, seventeen in number, put on the secret work in exemplification tonight in Moss auditorium before more than a thousand Woodmen here from all over Georgia at the biennial convention of the order, winning the public praise of sovereign camp officers and head camp officers alike.

Business sessions were held this afternoon and a big day parade and a colored torch light procession tonight were features. The election of officers, with several warm races, and selection of the 1918 meeting place will take place tomorrow. Americus is a strong bidder for the convention two years hence.

Dr. E. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus, will not be a candidate for re-election as head consul of the Woodmen of Georgia. A strong race is likely between Dr. J. W. Simmons, of Brunswick, and W. B. Hewlett, of Savannah.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF MRS. H. L. WILSON

On April 1 our sweet neighbor closed her soft brown eyes on the scenes she had made beautiful around her to open them in the presence of her Lord.

Mrs. Wilson was true in every relation of life. Faithful to her dear husband, whom she idolized, beautiful in her devotion to her children and was always a sympathetic and affectionate friend who could enter into every joy and every sorrow. How many hours she brightened by sending from her own garden fresh flowers and vegetables and was everything some act of kindness and paying some tribute of love. She will be sadly missed by all her neighbors, and sorrowfully as it is the afflicted of her household, the sudden translation of our irreparable loss, the devoted husband has the deep and sympathy of many hearts. The broken ties between them seems lonely severed, for their congeniality and love was beautiful. To feel that a "pillar of strength" and to him she was the "graceful clinging vine" that embellished his life. All their plans were harmonious and hand in hand they have enjoyed a consecrated and beautiful life. May the Holy Spirit descend in great power to comfort and give peace to dear Dr. Wilson's pulsed and broken hearted.

RETURNS PRYOR STREET RESOLUTION WITH VETO

Mayor Says Would Be Illegal to Use Brick Recommends Concrete Pavement.

Mayor Woodward, as expected, Tuesday vetoed the resolution providing for brick for paving Pryor street, and the second ward delegation in the general council, headed by Alderman Kelley, announced that an effort would be made to have council override the veto.

In returning the measure to council with his veto, the mayor takes the position that the purchase of brick for Pryor street would be illegal. He claims the purchasing department did its duty in turning down the bids for brick and says since that department last year saved the city $74,000 its action should be sustained by the general council.

The mayor says he regrets that the people of Pryor street have been in the mud through the winter, but says the blame should be laid at the feet of Alderman Kelley, who was chairman of the street committee when the Belgian blocks on that street were torn up. He says this action was without legal sanction and should be given serious consideration by council.

He discusses at length the good results from concrete pavement, which he says is cheaper and better than brick, and urged council to make a thorough investigation of concrete paving before taking further action on the Pryor street matter.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Bert Fitzgibbon, on this week's Forsyth bill, is a garden variety of the unadulterated and scientifically cultured, cultivated and served in a most fashionable fashion. There is no possible description of Bert Fitzgibbon. You must see him. Once you see him he'll never be forgotten. W. H. Murphy and Blanche Nichols those illustrious stars who have been vaudeville favorites for years, are back this year with an irrepressible wealth of fun and burlesque. Rose Lloyd, the English comedienne and a sister of the eminent Alice Lloyd, has a delightfully pleasant and entertaining style. Lorraine and Dudley, in their sketch, "The Way to a Man's Heart," and Mary Stebbins, rural comedienne, devel's Mannikin Mimics, and Shadow, the wire performer.

"The High Hand."

(At the Grand.)

PRIZE FIGHT PICTURES IN THE NEWSPAPERS

Washington, April 13.—Inquiries whether newspapers conducting prize fight pictures would be barred from the mails caused Postmaster General Burleson to announce today that such papers would be accepted for transmission, but that the department could not say whether depositing the papers in the mail would be in violation of the act of 1912. This act, quoted in Mr. Burleson's statement, makes it unlawful to mail, transport in interstate commerce or import "films or other pictorial representation of any prize fight or encounter of pugilists which is designed to be used or may be used for purposes of public exhibition."

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN TO MEET AT LAGRANGE

The eighth annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterial of the Presbytery of Atlanta will be in session for three days, beginning April 21, at LaGrange. This meeting will be attended by representatives from all of the woman's organizations of the Presbyterian churches of this vicinity, and will be addressed by several prominent speakers on subjects related to the various activities of the organization.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

In a little book designed for expectant mothers more complete instruction is given in the use of "Mother's Friend." This is an external embrocation applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of reducing the strain on ligaments, cords and tendons.

It serves to ease the mind, indirectly has a most beneficial effect upon the nervous system and thousands of women have delightedly told how they were free of nausea, had no morning sickness and went through the ordeal with most remarkable success. "Mother's Friend" has been growing in popular favor for more than forty years. In almost every community are grandmothers who used it themselves, their daughters have used it and they certainly must know what a blessing it is when they recommend it so warmly. It is used very successfully to prevent caking of breasts.

"Mother's Friend" has been prepared in the laboratory of Bradfield Regulator Co., 304 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for more than two generations and can be had of almost any druggist from coast to coast. Write to-day for the little book.

MARKETING CONVENTION IN COLUMBUS THURSDAY

Farmers and Business Men to Discuss Financing of Crops and Live Stock.

Fully 700 delegates and many others interested will attend the interstate gathering of farmers and business men which will be held in Columbus, April 15. The purpose of this meeting is to formulate plans for the better growing, financing and marketing of food crops and live stock. In order that the plans for co-operative marketing may receive expression from representative men of the surrounding agricultural region there will be present delegates appointed by the probate judges of the twelve counties in east Alabama, and also delegates appointed by the ordinaries of the twelve counties in west Georgia.

Alabama carried on a great civic revival during the month of February, holding more than 1,100 farm demonstration meetings in the one month in country school houses. Agricultural experts, with practical farm training at agricultural schools, delivered addresses with charts and exhibits. Plans have been formed by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce for a similar enterprise in Georgia. Representatives of the department of agriculture and college of agriculture, both in Georgia and Alabama, will address the Columbus meeting, also prominent bankers, merchants and leading farmers. It will be presided over by Charles J. Haden, president Georgia Chamber of Commerce. There will be two sessions—morning and afternoon. The citizens of Columbus will serve a buffet luncheon to the delegates in the Muscogee county courthouse between the sessions.

Warren Charges Negro Accused Him of Arson To Clear His Own Skirts

Charging that the negro witness, William Barge, accused him of the crime of arson to unburden his own shoulders, a dramatic statement was made in his own defense by S. D. Warren, the Peters street merchant now on trial for the burning of his store last December.

"You men of the jury may find me guilty," were the concluding words of his testimony, "but I can look you in the face and tell you that I am as innocent as any one of you. If you return a verdict against me, you will be unjustly robbing my wife and children of their husband and father."

The trial proper came to an end Tuesday afternoon. Today's proceedings will be arguments from counsel for the defense and prosecution. Warren, on the stand, stated that the negro, Barge, had fired the store as a stroke of revenge for reprimands given him for drinking and general misconduct.

The accusation that the negro had likely created the fire to conceal the theft of stock was also made. Warren's character was upheld by a number of witnesses of both Fulton and DeKalb counties, among them being C. Murphey Candler, chairman of the Georgia state railroad commission.

The negro witness had confessed setting fire to the store, but testified that he did it under supervision of Warren.

C. E. CONVENTION WILL MEET IN FITZGERALD

The state Christian Endeavor convention will meet at Fitzgerald April 16 to 18. Quite an interesting program has been prepared, and every feature of Christian Endeavor work will be discussed. E. P. Gates, field secretary for the state of Illinois, will take a prominent part. All who attend will be highly entertained and instructed.

Delegates going from Atlanta should meet at the Terminal station at 7:30 Friday morning. A special car will be furnished and party rates conceded.

OPINION MAY CHANGE BANKING LOAN SYSTEM

Supreme Court Holds Usurious to Deduct 8 Per Cent Interest in Advance.

Virtually every bank in the state of Georgia is affected by an opinion handed down by the supreme court on Tuesday, holding that to deduct in advance from loans interest at the rate of 8 per cent is usury.

This is a custom which has been practiced by banks in Georgia for many years. Such a custom having been declared usury makes deeds given as security in such cases void.

The question came up to the court of appeals in the case of the Logansville Banking Company v. S. N. Forrester. Forrester had given the banking company promissory notes for loans totalling $7,000 at 8 per cent, from which the interest was deducted in advance. The banking company sued to recover the amount of the notes, claiming a lien on 275 acres of land. Forrester fought the suit on ground of usury.

The court of appeals certified the following questions to the supreme court:

Does the taking or receiving of interest in advance by a bank at the highest legal rate on a short-term loan render the contract usurious within the purview of section 3427 of the civil code, so as to make null and void a deed to realty, given to secure the payment of a promissory note representing the amount of such a loan?

What would be the maximum length of time in which a loan could run and still be a short-term loan, on which interest at the highest legal rate could be taken in advance?

Is the taking of interest in advance at the highest legal rate for a period of nine months and eleven days usurious, or is such a loan relieved of the taint of usury because of being "a short-term loan?"

The supreme court's decision was handed down in an opinion written by Justice Beverly D. Evans and concurred in by the full court.

Justice Evans said in part as follows:

"The reserving of interest in advance by a bank at the highest legal rate of interest on a loan, whether it be a short or long-term loan, is usurious, and a deed to land given to secure a promissory note for the loan is void on account of the usury.

"And if we follow the words of the statute there can be no differentiation of short-term loans from long-term loans.

"Interest is compensation for the use of money. In determining whether a greater sum than the maximum rate has been received we look to the amount received and the interest received. If the borrower does not receive all the principal stated in his obligation because of the reservation of the interest, he does not receive the full amount of his loan.

"The real principal of his obligation is the amount which he actually receives. When he pays the principal, as stated in his obligation, from which the maximum rate of interest was deducted in advance, he pays a sum in excess of that which he received and the interest on it. This is true in both short and long loans."

FIREMEN FIGHT FIRE WHEN FRYE'S FRILLS AND FEATHERS BURN

Two fires, one in a residence and the other in a millinery store, which raged at the same time Tuesday afternoon, kept the city fire companies busy for an hour.

The first fire broke out in the S. S. Frye Millinery store, 39 Mitchell street, originating in the basement where excelsior, feathers and hat trimmings were stored.

These materials caused the flames to spread rapidly, and great headway had been gained before Mrs. Frye and Miss May Argo, an employee of the store, discovered big volumes of smoke emanating from the basement.

Before the fire was extinguished considerable water damage was done, and two firemen received slight injuries. They were Captain W. F. Coley, of No. 4 company, and C. T. Lemman, a hoseman. The latter was thrown from an auto fire truck as it whirled around the corner of Alabama and Forsyth streets on its way to the fire.

The residence fire, which broke out in the home of W. O. Deans, of the Pickard & Deans Drug company, on Peachtree street, was put out by the firemen without much damage.

M'NEIL AND ELLIS FIGHT

Ex-Senator and Macon Man Fined by Recorder.

Macon, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—The proceedings in recorder's court today were marked by a fistic encounter between Attorney W. D. McNeil, former state senator, who was recently defeated in his race for the legislature, and Theodore Ellis, a well-known Macon citizen. Mr. Ellis was a witness against E. H. Flynn, charged with posting bills without a license, and during his examination by Attorney McNeil, representing Flynn, Mr. Ellis took exception to the attorney's remarks and struck him. Blows were exchanged before the two men were separated. Later they mixed again and then the recorder took a hand, fining McNeil $10 and Ellis $25. Flynn was assessed $59.75 on the charge against him.

TWO NEGROES ARRESTED AFTER FIRES AT DAWSON

Dawson, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—At 1 o'clock this morning, three miles southeast of Dawson, Mrs. L. B. Locke's barn, 500 bushels of corn, a wagon shelter, farm implements, seed houses, ten tons of cotton seed, hulls and meal were all destroyed by fire. The loss is $3,500, partially insured.

Half an hour later at Chicasawhatchee Edgar Todd lost his barn, two mules, a milk cow, several hogs and goats by fire. The loss is $1,500. Two negroes are in jail charged with the crime. The department responded to a call at 10:30 o'clock on Second avenue and checked a small blaze in a negro's store.

YOUTH BEATS UP FATHER WHO SPANKED DAUGHTER

Pelham, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—John Jordan, an employee of a cotton mill at Pelham, was seriously injured this afternoon in an altercation with Joe Wade, also an employee of the mill, when the latter hit him over the head with a heavy hickory stick.

It is reported that Wade was talking to Jordan's daughter and that Jordan resented this attention to her, and whipped his daughter in Wade's presence. Wade invited him out of the mill and the fight ensued. Wade was arrested and is being held until it can be determined how serious the wounds may prove to be.

GEORGIA DELEGATES FOR LABOR MEETING

Governor Slaton has appointed the following delegates to the meeting of the southern conference on woman and child labor, to be held in Memphis, Tenn., April 26 to 27:

EXEMPTION IS DENIED CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Party lines were cast today when the assembly defeated the Thorn bill, intended to exempt Christian Science practitioners from the state law requiring physicians to be examined and licensed. The vote was 46 ayes to 79 noes. The bill now is dead.

Majority Leader Hinman, leading the opposition, said enactment of the bill would imperial public health inasmuch as it would permit persons to practice healing without any state regulation of supervision.

"We might just as well repeal the entire medical practice act as to enact this bill," Mr. Hinman said. "Under the law as it now stands the state has decreed that a person, in order to practice healing, must have completed at least eighteen years of study and must have fulfilled certain qualifications. The Thorn bill would permit persons to practice healing who had no knowledge of our health laws. Its passage would be a step toward the commercializing of religion."

Sponsors for the bill were Assemblymen Thorn and Graves. Both asserted it was the constitutional right of any person to be treated when ill in any manner he chose and that twenty-seven states had enacted laws exempting Christian Science practitioners from provisions of statutes governing physicians.

"Christian Scientists do not wish to be placed in a preferred class," said Mr. Thorn. "They merely desire to be permitted legally to practice the tenets of their religion as they apply to healing bodily ills."

Most Old People Are Constipated

The weight of years impairs the action of the bowels. With advancing age people are disposed to restricted activity and exercise, which is responsible for the constipated condition of most old folks. The digestive organs are more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly.

A mild, effective remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of elderly people, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

"Lindy" Hiett in Great Form And Crackers Cop From Gulls; Tullos' Work Is a Feature

BILL PRAISES TEAM.

By G. J. Flournoy.

Mobile, Ala., April 13.—(Special.)—Atlanta played a team with the jump in the opening game of the Southern association season here this afternoon, and before a crowd of nearly 4,000 people defeated the Mobile club by the score of 4 to 1 due to the great pitching of Hiett, the former Texas leaguer, aided by the wildness of Hogg, the Mobile slab artist. He lost interest when he gave up bases on balls to two men and allowed two hits.

Up to the fifth inning Hiett allowed no hits and not a man reached first base, and in this inning Northen just did scratch an infield single.

The pitcher that Manager Billy Smith presented to the Mobile crowd was never in danger and the team behind him played fast ball all the way through.

Tullos the Star.

Tullos, the third-sacker of the visitors, featured the game with a great play in the fifth inning and would have completed a double play in the seventh when he caught a rifle shot ball from Heaton, but making a fast throw to first but Eibel dropped the ball.

Eibel and Moran, for the visitors, led the hitting for their team, while Northen starred at the bat for the local club, getting two of the four hits made, and in the seventh robbed Bowden of a triple by a hard-running catch.

Atlanta, with the exception of one misplay by Eibel at first, played errorless ball, Potts, the second baseman of the Atlanta club, Baumgardner at third for the Gulls, and Dobard, at short, figured in the fielding honors of the day.

How Crackers Scored.

Atlanta scored the first run of the game in the fourth inning, when with one out, Eibel beat out one to first that Hogg could not field in time. Moran fanned the second strike on him being called by Breitenstein when he was away from the plate. Manning, the next man up, walked, and Tullos singled to left, and while Powell juggled the ball Eibel scored. Potts ended the inning on flying out to Miller in center.

Atlanta's big inning came in the fifth, when Hogg walked Rumler, the six caught to start with. Hiett sacrificed to pitcher and Rumler was caught at second by a fast play. Bowden was hit by Hogg, and Bisland's slashing hit to center filled the bases. Eibel was first in position when Hogg knocked him to the ground and Hiett was forced home.

Moran drove the ball to deep right for a single and Bowden crossed the plate with the second run, Bisland being held at third by a fast relay from Northen. Manning brought in the third run of the inning when he hit a long sacrifice fly to left, Bisland scoring easily on the throw home. Tullos, the next man up, hit to short, forcing Moran at second.

How Gulls Tallied.

The Gulls got a run over in the seventh inning when Hiett gave up his only base on balls to Calhoun, who was advanced to second on Miller's infield out from Potts to Eibel. Northen came to the bat and sent a grounder over first that caromed out of Eibel's reach and by some fast sprinting Calhoun crossed the plate. Dobard and Perry were easy outs.

In the eighth inning a fast double play by Bisland, Potts and Eibel stopped a chance of Mobile's further scoring, the second baseman making a fast play on the ball.

Powell, for Mobile, started off the ninth inning with the only real hard-hit single of the game, but never got away from first, Hiett striking out Calhoun, a dangerous man, and the best that Miller and Northen could do was to pop out.

The Atlanta manager was presented with a stickpin by Secretary Parker, of the Mobile club, before the game. Previous to the beginning of the game, Mayor Harry Pillans, of Mobile, pitched the first ball, and Manager Charles Schmidt, of the local club, was given a floral horseshoe five feet high from the local council, Knights of Columbus.

New Orleans, April 13.—New Orleans defeated Birmingham 7 to 4 in the opening game of the Southern association here today. The game was played in the New Heinemann park before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed baseball in New Orleans. New Orleans started with Morgan in the box, but he was taken out at the end of the fourth inning after he had been hit on the hand by a batted ball.

Babies 12, Foxes 4.

Albany, Ga., April 13.—Albany pounded three Columbus pitchers today, winning by the score of 12 to 4. Lawrence worked six innings and gave up but one hit, but Souto, relieving him, was hit hard and had to be relieved by Guerry. The features were the pitching of Lawrence, the hitting of Prough and a long, running one-handed catch by Hanna.

Peaches 5, Scouts 4.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 13.—Macon turned the tables on Jacksonville today and won by the score of 5 to 4. The fielding of the locals was ragged during the early part of the game, and Williams was accorded miserable support. The fielding of Neild for the visitors featured.

Score by innings	R.	H.	E.
Jacksonville: 201 010 000—4	7	2

Tourists 11, Gamecocks 1.

Columbia, S. C., April 13.—Hitting the ball hard and fielding well, Augusta won the second game of the series from Columbia, 11 to 1, here today. Champlain batting for the winners and that of Nalls for the losers featured.

Score by innings	R.	H.	E.
Columbia: 000 000 001—1	6	5

Indians 3, Gulls 2.

Savannah, Ga., April 13.—Crowell's single to left with Colbert on second and two down in the last half of the ninth, broke a 2-to-2 tie extending from the third inning and gave Savannah today's game with Charleston, 3 to 2. Both pitchers were wild. Camnitz settled, however, after two passes in the first had been turned into runs, and easily earned the margin.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Charleston: 200 000 000—2	7	0
Savannah: 011 000 001—3	7	2

Killed Children and Herself.

Seattle, Wash., April 13.—Mrs. Luther A. Leonard and her four children were found dead in their home here today. The police reported that they all had been killed by poison administered by the mother.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Newark 3; Baltimore 1.

Baltimore, April 13.—Chief Bender made his debut as a Federal leaguer here today and finished second best in a pitching duel with George Mullin, another former American leaguer, Baltimore losing the third straight game to Newark, 3 to 1.

Score by innings	R.	H.	E.
Newark: 010 010 100—3	7	1
Baltimore: 000 001 000—1	7	1

Batteries—Mullin and Hunn; Bender and Owens.

St. Louis 3; Kansas City 0.

Kansas City, April 13.—Henning, pitching for Kansas City, was unsteady, and St. Louis won the first game of the series from the locals here today, 3 to 0. St. Louis scored one run in the first inning without a hit.

Score by innings	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis: 100 010 100—3	9	3
Kansas City: 000 000 000—0	5	1

Batteries—Groom and Hartley; Henning and Easterly.

Buffalo 5; Brooklyn 4.

Brooklyn, April 13.—Buffalo won the last game of the opening series with Brooklyn today, 5 to 4. Schultz held the locals to three hits and was invincible after the third inning, when Myers, pinch hitting for Cooper, doubled with the bases full. The visitors scored the winning run in the seventh when Engle sent two men home with a double.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn: 004 000 000—4	5	5

Batteries—Schultz and Allen; Blue Jacket, Seaton and Land.

Chicago 6; Pittsburg 5.

Chicago, April 13.—Pittsburg was defeated by the locals today, 6 to 5. The winning run was a gift. Flack drew a base on balls and went to second on a wild pitch. On an infield out he took third and scored on passed ball.

McConnell, who trained with the Chicago Nationals and who refused to report to Kansas City when released to that club, made his debut as a Federal leaguer when he replaced Johnson.

New Orleans Has 10,610 Paid Admissions at Opening Game

Atlanta must have a monster crowd at Ponce de Leon park this afternoon when the Pelicans and the Crackers open the 1915 season.

New Orleans registered 10,610 paid admissions at the opening of her season there Tuesday, dedicating her new Heinnemann field, named after her president, and beating the champion Barons to boot.

Jeannette Beats Langford.

Boston, Mass., April 13.—Joe Jeannette defeated Sam Langford in a twelve-round bout here tonight. The negro heavyweights mixed freely, but Langford's apparent lack of condition gave his opponent an advantage.

"Gunboat" Bests Weinert.

The Short Cut to Pipe-Joy

If you have squandered your youth looking for smoke joy among the desolating peppergrass brands, come over in our yard and fry a pipe o' good old Prince Albert. Or, if you like yours rolled into a little paper pipe, smoke it your way, but make it of P. A. There's no two guesses about the pleasingness and goodness of the national joy smoke

PRINCE ALBERT

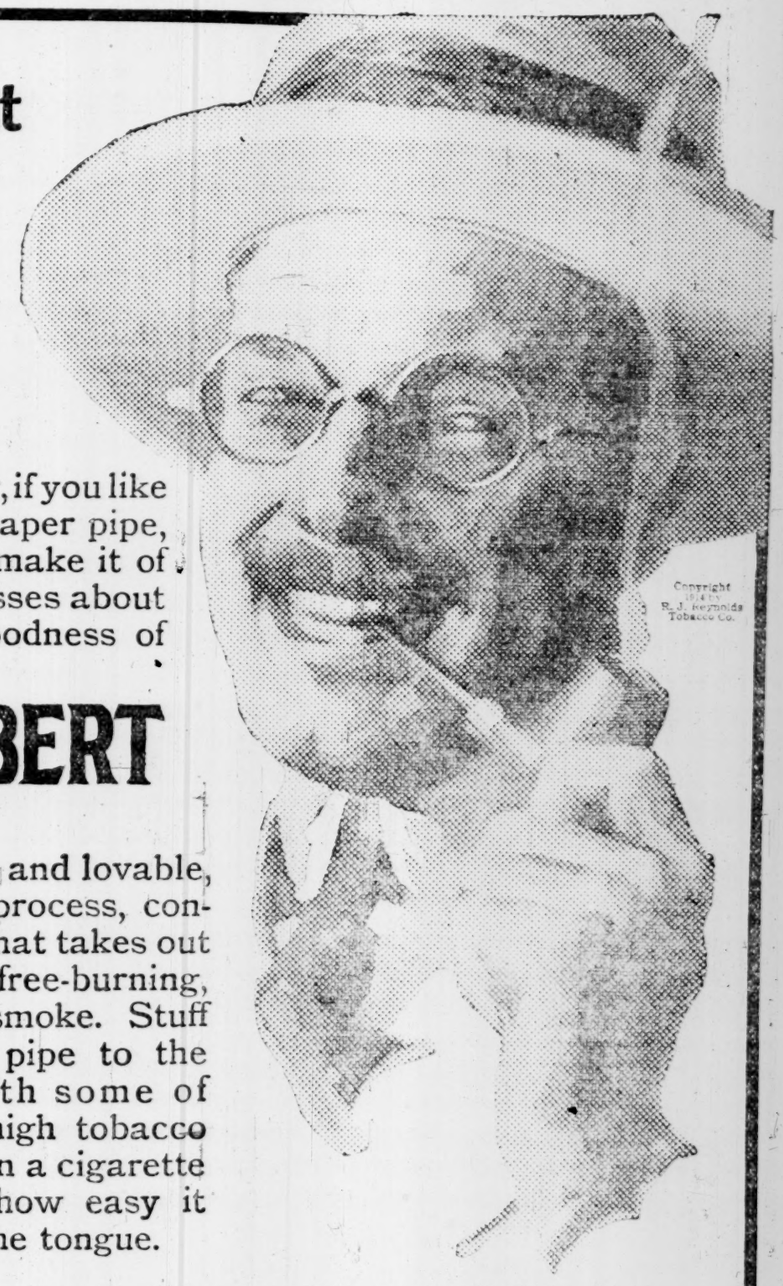
It is the smoke fuel gentle and lovable, made so by a patented process, controlled exclusively by us, that takes out the bite and leaves a cool, free-burning, fragrant smoke. Stuff your old pipe to the brow with some of this ace-high tobacco or roll it in a cigarette and see how easy it feels on the tongue.



The tidy red tin, 10c; toppy red bag, 5c; the pound and half-pound tin humidors. Then, there's the 16-oz. P. A. crystal-glass humidor that's bang-up for home and for the office. You've always a fresh supply on hand, because the sponge in the lid keeps the tobacco pipe-fit.

Two Boston Teams Favored As Major Leagues Begin

The two Boston teams rule as the favorites with the majority of the fans of the country over as the major league teams get ready for the barrier that is to start them through six months of baseball today.

In the National league, the world's champions, Boston Braves, are regarded as the favorite, by reason of their wonderful work in winning the pennant and the world's championship and the fact that they have added strength by the addition of the clouting Sherwood Magee. They needed just one slashing hitter to make them formidable enough to repeat.

McGraw has added strength to his Giants, with the acquisition of Lobert to the infield and Perritt to the twirling staff. If Meyers, Doyle and Merkle hit anywhere near their 1913 form this season, the Giants must be figured in the hunt from beginning to end.

The Cincinnati club must also be figured. This sounds like a strange prediction, but Herzog has added more strength in proportion to the strength he carried last season than any manager in the National league, and with good pitching, added defensive strength and hitting power in Wingo and Deal, the Reds look dangerous.

In the American league the Red Sox appear to outclass the field. They have the greatest outfield, an infield that, with the return of Wagner, will be second to none, good catchers, and a pitching staff that, when working right, excells any staff in the country.

They were admittedly the best club in the American league last season towards the close, and with the weakening of Mack's great machine by sales and desertions, it will not be able to cope with the "Speed Boys," nor will any other club.

The White Sox look certain to battle with the Macknen for runner-up. The other teams in both leagues besides the three mentioned are too uncertain to attempt an analysis.

DENT SIGNS UP

Elliott Dent, the Crackers' big right-hander, affixed his signature to a 1915 contract to play with the Crackers, just before the locals hit the rattler for Mobile to play that opening game Tuesday. Every Cracker is now in the fold, Dent being the last to sign.

ALABAMA BLANKS GEORGIA NINE, 3 TO 0

Bowman, of the Tuscaloosans, Fans 16 Georgians and Allowed But 2 Hits.

Athens, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—It was a long way to Alabama's pitcher, Bowman, for the Red and Black batters, hard-hitters as they are, this afternoon, when the Tuscaloosans blanked Georgia in the second game of the two played here.

Bowman was simply too much for Georgia, and Corley, who has been easily Georgia's best pitcher this year, failed to do the thing to the visitors that Bowman did to the classics.

Threes figured again today. Yesterday the Alabamians scored three runs in one inning without a hit, and though failing to do that today they did better, scoring three hits in the third and getting a run every third inning—one in the third, sixth and ninth, each.

In the sixth they got a run from a balk, a steal and two gratuitous errors. In the ninth the run was made by a hit batter, a sacrifice and then a well-placed hit. Harrison and McWhorter alone connected for a safety for Georgia.

Bowman had the Red and Black's big hitters at his mercy, striking out sixteen. Corley did half as well.

YELLOW JACKETS PLAY MISSISSIPPI AGGIES

The Tech Yellow Jackets will battle the Mississippi A. & M. team in games today and Thursday at Grant Field. The Starkeville collegians come here from Macon, where they have been playing Mercer, and after the games with the Jackets, go to Athens for a couple of games with Georgia.

MISS. AGGIES WIN FROM MERCER NINE IN SLOW GAME, 7-5

Macon, Ga., April 13.—(Special.)—In a slow game, marred by errors, Mercer lost to Miss. A. & M. by the score of 7 to 5. The Aggies' stars were Davis and Loper, both boys getting two timely hits, while Kinney played an excellent fielding game. For Mercer, Hawes was the individual star, getting two base hits and stealing three bases, one of which was a dashing steal of home. Swann and Dewberry also played an excellent game, both on the paths and at bat.

EMORY PICKS TRACK TEAM FOR BIG MEET

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., April 13. (Special.)—The annual interclass field day at Emory was held Monday afternoon on the Weber athletic field. The seniors, who won, have won all the pennants so far this year. The men who will most probably represent Emory in Macon at the four-cornered meet between Georgia, Mercer, Tech and Emory were also picked Monday, and are Monfort, high jump; Williams, 440-yard dash; Monfort, 100-yard dash; Towsen, shot put; Patillo, hurdles 120 yards; Lee, hammer throw; Monfort, pole vault; Ivey, half miles; Monfort, broad jump; Williams, 220-yard dash; Bolland, mile. Monfort scored most, making 21 out of the 50 points won by the seniors. Williams, a junior, came next in scoring, making 12 points.

Atlanta 6, Tuskegee 3.

In the fastest game of the season, Atlanta university lowered the colors of Tuskegee institute on the A. U. field. Holden was in the box for Atlanta, and was invincible, holding Tuskegee to seven scattered hits. The fielding of Captain Bell in center field, the batting of Jefferson and Maxwell and the deadly throwing of Maxwell which robbed every man who attempted to steal, were features for the Atlanta team. Three brilliant double plays by Atlanta and a great catch of a line drive by Captain Bell in the eighth inning featured, also.

Maxwell knocked a home run over the left field fence, and Jefferson got a triple. This is the first game lost out of eleven which Tuskegee has played. The batteries were: For Atlanta, Holden and Maxwell, and for Tuskegee, Hinton, Flake and Peek.

GEORGIA AND A. & W. P. OFFICES WILL CLOSE

Joseph P. Billups, general passenger agent of the Atlanta and West Point, rang up the sporting editor last night and handed out this line of booster talk:

"Tell them all in the morning, Dick, that we are going to be there in a body. The general offices of the A. & W. P. and the Georgia road will be closed from noon Wednesday, and four hundred strong we'll be at Poncey to help that opening game and attendance trophy. It's up to the rest of the fans."

The street car company promises to outdo itself on its service to and from the park. The traffic officials of the company will put on every extra car that they have in the barns in use at noon and keep them running to and from the park all during the game.

There will be none of the delay that marked the car service at the opening game last season. It takes experience to handle big crowds and any transportation company and the street car company has profited by its experience of last season.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, will twirl the first ball today. Dr. White starred as a pitcher in his college days at Wake Forest college.

2,000 BARACAS WILL ATTEND GAME IN BODY.

Gordon G. Singleton, head of the Baracas of Atlanta, who have an enrollment in the various Sunday schools of 2,000, enlightened the sporting editor of The Constitution Tuesday that his organization would go to the game in a body.

The Baracas form one of the strongest religious and athletic bodies in Atlanta, and and with them in behind the movement to win the opening game attendance trophy for the Crackers, they will influence all the other Sunday school workers of the city to attend.

The social clubs of the city, who have boxes at the ball park, have announced that their members have made so many requests for seats in the boxes that the clubs lease from the baseball club for the season they will be forced to install extra seats for the game.

Every few minutes during the day some one rang up The Constitution stating, "We're going to close up and send a bunch of lusty-lunged rooters to the ball park Wednesday to root for the Crackers." The number of calls was amazing.

DANIEL BROS. BUYS 5,000 TICKETS FOR GAME.

Daniel Bros. company, following its announcement in Tuesday's Constitution that it would close up shop and send all its employees to the game, pulled another boost for the attendance Tuesday afternoon.

The baseball officials announced that Daniel Bros. had purchased 5,000 tickets for the opening game, which it will place on sale at its store today. These tickets will be sold at a discount for cash, in the same manner that other merchandise is sold. By purchasing a ticket from Daniel Bros., the fans can save 5 cents on each 50-cent ticket purchased.

In addition to this ticket sale at Daniel Bros., tickets can be purchased at Tumlin Bros.' stores and at the ball park, extra ticket booths having been installed for the benefit of the fans.

DRUM CORPS, ARTILLERY, BAND AND AUTO PARADE.

Monday night he mailed postals to every member of the Ad Men, requesting them to meet him at the Forsyth street entrance of Johnson-Gewinner company's store this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and take part in this monster parade.

The Eagle Drum corps has donated its services to the baseball club and Ad Men and will be in the lead of the parade on two big automobile trucks.

A brass band, engaged to play all during the game, and which will parade the streets this morning, will also furnish music during the parade.

The Atlanta artillery, battery B, of the field artillery of the national guard of Georgia, will take part in the parade. They announced Tuesday afternoon that they would have one of their guns in the parade, and at the ball park would fire a few blank shots before the game to start things off right.

The Atlanta artillery is planning to go to the exposition at San Francisco as military representatives from Atlanta, and to this end are staging a benefit performance at the Atlanta theater Thursday night, a musical, minstrel and military pageant.

They are doing their share in this opening day program, and will lend a military aspect to the game, and be on hand to turn loose their guns on the Pelicans in the event that the Cracker marksmen are unable to check the advance of Johnny Dobbs' men.

Mr. Boehm requests that every Ad Man with an automobile be on hand at the time specified, and if he cannot go himself to lend his automobile to the occasion to help swell the crowd.

MERCHANTS WILL CLOSE FOR THE OPENING GAME.

All arrangements have not been perfected for the big crowd. It is now entirely up to the fans. The big parade will be the last preliminary arrangement before the game starts, other than what arrangements will be pulled off at the park.

A complete list of all the merchants who will close today is not available, a partial list obtained from the baseball club and from the firms and booster organizations themselves is as follows:

City hall, county courthouse, chamber of commerce, Georgia Railway and Power company, Southern Bell Telephone company, Western Union Telegraph company, General Electric company, Underwood Typewriter company, Daniel Bros. company, American Can company, Crystal billiard and bowling parlors, Postal Telegraph company, Charles P. Glover Realty company, Grant building barber shop, Gordon G. Singleton for the Baracas of Atlanta, the Ad Men, the Atlanta Automobile association, the Rotarians, Stafford the Tailor, Nunnally & McCrea, Harry L. Schlesinger, Lowry National bank, Fourth National bank, American National bank, M. Kutz & Co., W. A. Chapin & Co., Ottley, Knowles & Miller, Southern railway, Atlanta and West Point, Massengale Advertising company, Massengale Bulletin system, Seabrook company, Atlanta Telephone and Telegraph company, A. G. Spalding & Bros., J. D. Frazier & Co., J. N. Hirsh & Co., Law Bros. company, Cole Book store, Elseman & Sons, Hirsch Bros., Elseman Bros., Wilder Manufacturing company, Hightower Hardware company, Forrest & George Adair, Elkin-Goldsmith sanitarium, E. L. Adams company, Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company, Byrd Printing company, C. P. Limbaugh, R. O. Cochran company, Etowah barber shop, Dougherty-Little-Redwine company, King Hardware company, Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, Louisville and Nashville, Ruralist Press, Southern Ruralist, Publishers Press, Royal Typewriter company, Hirsch & Spitz Manufacturing company, Capital City Tobacco company, the Hirshberg company, S. P. Richards company, Gramling-Spalding company, John Silvey & Co.

Last night The Constitution received by telephone and by mail several additions to the above list.

The Remington Typewriter company telephoned that they would permit twenty-three men to go to the game, closing for the afternoon. The Gulf Refining company, in a letter to the sporting editor, advises that they will close their offices and warehouse and send 100 more. The Southern School Book Depository phoned they would send twenty-five fans to the park. McDannell Photo gallery also closes for the afternoon.

There were numerous others that telephoned while the sporting editor was out during the afternoon, and if any name does not appear in the above list it is due to an oversight.

TODAY'S THE DAY

¶ Thousands of fans are happy.
¶ Everything is ready to send Billy's Crackers off to a big start toward that rag.
¶ Come on and swell the crowd.
¶ We're going to make Birmingham look sad.
¶ And when you get out there, pull for the boys strong.
¶ Root your best and that means wet your yelling capacity and keep in condition with an ice cold bottle of refreshing

Closed firm.

New York, April 13.—An early decline was more than recovered in cotton today with the close steady at a net advance of 5 to 9 points.

There was a renewal of realizing and scattered selling which developed here yesterday, and after opening at a decline of 3 to 6 points, active months sold 7 to 9 points under yesterday's closing. Early weakness in Liverpool and reports of good weather south probably promoted the early selling movement, but at the decline to 10.44 for October, or about 25 points under Monday's high record, offerings tapered off and the market soon turned steadier.

A late rally in Liverpool, firmness in New Orleans and continued activity and strength of the stock market probably promoted buying on the rally, while bullish sentiment may also have been encouraged by reports of an increasing demand for cotton goods and predictions that census supply and distribution figures for March would make a bullish showing tomorrow morning.

Near months were relatively firm on the advance on short covering, while there were rumors that southern spot dealers were in some instances covering March contracts owing to apprehensions that their cotton would not pass contract requirements. Besides, some of the larger spot interests were credited with steady purchases of October and December, and while demand did not become generally active, the market sold 9 to 12 points net higher in late trading. Closing prices were a little off from the best under realizations.

Reports of an easier tendency in the market for marine risks, combined with the continued full port receipts, led to rather more optimistic predictions as to clearances for the remainder of the month. Exports today were 26,185 bales; 6,811,855 so far this season. Port receipts 46,235 bales. United States port stock 1,188,652. Interior receipts 21,667.

Advances 10-12 Points.

New Orleans, April 13.—While cotton went lower in the early trading today it quickly recovered and worked up to a net advance closing within a point of the top, at a net rise of 10 to 12 points. It was a quiet session, with few contracts for sale. A moderate demand served to maintain prices.

Shortly after the opening the market was influenced by unfavorable cables from Liverpool, but the lowest prices were only 4 to 6 points under yesterday's close. Weather conditions were considered most favorable, although the bulls claimed that the belt needed rain, and some of the selling was due to this cause. Later, however, the fear of the first government crop reports of the season, to be issued tomorrow, might contain unfavorable references to the backwardness of the season, was a stimulating influence.

Spot cotton steady, unchanged. Sales on the spot 2,065 bales; to arrive 538; good ordinary 7.36; strict good ordinary 7.82; low middling 8.50; strict low middling 9; middling 9.87; strict middling 9.62; good middling 10.06; strict good middling 10.43. Receipts 11,530; stock 378,264.

BETHLEHEM STEEL LEADS THE TRADING

Rises and Falls Within Range of 32 Points, Closing at Net Gain of One Point.

New York, April 13.—Wild and active speculation in securities was resumed today under lead of Bethlehem Steel, which rose and fell within a range of 32 points and closed with a net gain of 1 point. From its high price of 155, recorded midway of the afternoon session, it grudgingly yielded 10 points, but towards the end its fall assumed wider proportions, declining to 123 and finishing at 125.

All branches of the stock list which had moved forward with Bethlehem Steel earlier in the day, were more or less upset by the severe break, some leading issues yielding more than their gains and closing with net losses. Developments as a whole were distinctly favorable to the constructive side, including peace rumors from Washington and less official quarters, additional trade advices of an encouraging character, and another large engagement of gold in the Orient for transmission here.

The bond market moved contrarily the greater part of the session, its irregularity being due to weakness in some of the speculative issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $7,184,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 13.—Cotton goods strong today. Yarns firm. Dress goods and men's wear in light demand. Silks quiet and velvet ribbons active. Jobbers reported a steady trade for this period of their season.

WHEAT DECLINES ON SMALL DEMAND

Closes Weak at 1-4 to 5-8 Points Under the Previous Close--Other Staples Show Decline.

Chicago, April 13.—Signs that pointed to a decrease in cash demand more than wiped out an early advance in wheat. Closed weak 1-4 to 5-8 under last night. Other leading staples showed a net decline—corn 1-2 to 3-4c, 7-8, oats 1-8 to 7-8 and provisions 60 to 71-2 to 20 cents.

Favorable weather brought about an easy feeling in oats.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 13.—(Special.)—Cablegrams from Liverpool stated that the weakness in that market at the opening was intensified by heavy selling from Russian account, but that it subsequently recovered. There the market showed comparatively little weakness, the opening decline being slowly recovered with an advancing tendency, which carried prices 5 or 6 points above yesterday. The market shows the same curious tendency to refuse to respond to the Liverpool market in either direction. Today it displayed a steadiness and finally strength which surprised every one, which must be due to underlying conditions not immediately apparent.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 13.—(Special.)—While liquidation at the opening of the market today forced a small recession in prices, they afterward advanced about 15 points in response to demand through local spot interests and western houses. During the past two days old longs have sold freely but notwithstanding the market has retained a steady tone, which in this instance is due to the buying of spot merchants who took advantage of the selling to cover their requirements. New York being relatively the highest market is constantly looked forward to as the place where hedge selling will concentrate, but as yet this selling has not materialized, and as a consequence there is no pressure or selling power when active buying sets in.

Country Produce.

Eggs irregular, 34,154. Fresh gathered extras 22½@23; storage packed, extra firsts, 22@22¼; firsts, 21½@22; regular packed, extra firsts, 21¾@22; firsts, 20¾@21½; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 23½; nearby hennery browns, 22½@23.

ARE YOU HOME-HUNGRY

It will pay you to read the real estate ads every day. Perhaps just the kind of a little home you want is advertised there today. Let's look now.

LONGING for a pretty little place, all your own, that you "fix up" just the way YOU want it?

A place that you can gradually acquire with the rent money that you're paying out each month?

Probably the man that owns the house YOU are living in is PAYING for it with YOUR monthly payments.

Phone your want ad to Main 5000, ask for Classified Adv. Dept. Atlanta 5001.

RAE AND HER LAWYERS ARE UNDER INDICTMENT

They Are Accused of Conspiracy Against James W. Osborne.

New York, April 13.—Rae Tanzer, Maxwell and David Slade, of the law firm of Slade & Slade, her attorneys in the breach of promise suit she brought against James W. Osborne, and Albert J. McCullough, a detective employed by the Slades, were indicted today by the federal grand jury investigating circumstances surrounding the filing of the suit. Miss Tanzer is charged with using the mails in an attempt to defraud. The Slades and McCullough are charged with conspiracy.

There were nine counts in the indictment against Miss Tanzer, each based on a letter she was alleged to have written to Mr. Osborne, addressing him as "Dear Oliver." It was charged she used the mails in an attempt to defraud by making false representations that James W. Osborne had promised to marry her, and by demanding money and property from him. Two sets of indictments were returned against each of the Slades and McCullough. The first act charged conspiracy to obstruct justice, and the second conspiracy to wrongfully influence the testimony of witnesses.

Seven indictments now have resulted from the grand jury's investigation of the suit brought by Miss Tanzer. Frank D. Safford, who said he saw James W. Osborne and Miss Tanzer at a hotel in New Jersey, was indicted last week for perjury. Miss Tanzer's sisters, Rose and Dora, were indicted yesterday on the same charge.

The indictment charging the Slades with conspiracy to obstruct justice alleges that they arranged for a "false and misleading photograph to be taken in such a manner as to indicate that the said James W. Osborne and the said Rae Tanzer had been willingly photographed together."

Another overt act alleged was that the Slades had a conversation with Clarence Legendre, a photographer, which—though this is not mentioned in the indictment—was said at the district attorney's office to have referred to the alleged arrangement for the taking of the photograph in question. The photograph, it was said, was never taken, but was to have been a composite photograph of Osborne and Miss Tanzer, taken at different times, but fixed on the same plate.

The indictment against the Slades and McCullough, charging them with influencing witnesses, charges that Slade paid $10 to Safford in furtherance of the conspiracy; that at the hearing before Commissioner Houghton, McCullough pointed Osborne out to Safford as the man Safford was to identify as having accompanied Rae Tanzer to the New Jersey hotel; that David Slade pointed out Osborne to Miss Tanzer and that David Slade paid $14 to Safford after the hearing.

Maxwell Slade voluntarily appeared before Judge Cushman after the finding of the indictment, entered a tentative plea of not guilty and furnished bail of $5,000. David Slade, according to his brother, is in Massachusetts on business. A bench warrant was issued for McCullough, and federal officers were sent to arrest him.

POPE BENEDICT GIVES TO THE WAR SUFFERERS

Rome, April 13.—(Via Paris.)—Pope Benedict has sent to Cardinal Mercier $5,000 for Belgian sufferers from the war. Accompanying the donation was a letter expressing the pleasure of the pope that relief committees for the Belgians had been formed in various countries.

The pope also sent $2,000 to the bishop of Cracow for Polish war sufferers.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Both building and real estate were active Tuesday, there being an element of trade in residence property. The largest number of building permits for any single day in this year was issued Tuesday, twenty-six being the total.

St. Charles Avenue Dwellings.

Building for the day totaled $16,705. J. C. Buchanan was granted permit to erect a one-story frame dwelling, six rooms, at 287 St. Charles avenue. The estimated cost is $3,750.

There are several residences in course of construction now on St. Charles.

Residence Sold.

The J. R. Smith & J. H. Ewing agency sold for J. J. West to J. K. Blake No. 345 Smith street, a residence on a small-sized lot, for $900.

Fischer Sales.

Carl H. Fischer sold for D. R. Evans to H. A. Etheridge five brick stores at the northwest corner of Grant street and Glenwood avenue for a consideration of $11,000, taking as part payment a residence property at No. 411 Bedford place.

There were a number of other small sales announced by Mr. Fischer, which were as follows:

For P. R. G. Clark to J. B. Johnson two brick stores, a warehouse and a residence in Conyers for property in Kirkwood and East Fair street acreage. The consideration was $8,000.

For Dr. Beckham to Paul S. Etheridge No. 527 Edgewood avenue for vacant property. Consideration $6,000.

For B. C. Derby to B. Whiteman No. 207 Hopkins street, a six-room house, taking as part payment forty acres in Cobb county, for a consideration of $3,750.

For Paul Ethridge to John Grau No. 379 East North avenue, for $5,000; for E. S. Cox to E. J. Chappelear No. 111 Cascade avenue, a six-room house on a large lot, consideration $5,250; and for a client a lot on Bedford place for a residence property at No. 10 East Ninth street, value at $6,000.

Peachtree Lot Exchange.

Warranty deeds recorded Tuesday conveyed from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Bailey to J. W. O'Brannon a lot on Peachtree street, 137 feet south of Alexander on the west side of Peachtree. The consideration was $27,600, or $1,200 a front foot. The lot has a frontage of 23 feet and a depth of 135 feet through to Alexander. Mrs. Bailey bought this lot from the Realty Investment company in 1912 for $23,000.

At a Glance.

The slapped together Ready-Mades "look the part," too. The select patterns and weaves, the skilled workmanship, the superior linings and perfect fit—these combine to make our $35.00 Hand Tailored Suits highly desirable.

Our 25% Reduction Sale on high-grade Gents' Furnishings is well worth your time and attention. Everything is new and nobby. Large assortment and wide variety.

WHAT IS A TRADING STATEMENT?

It should be designed to show the Gross Profits on trading. That is, the excess of the amount charged for goods sold over their purchase price, together with any expenses attendant on their acquisition. A grocery firm, for instance, prepares a Trading Statement at the end of the year to show what it has made or lost by selling goods. In preparing such a statement the services of a Certified Public Accountant are valuable in locating leaks and tightening loose joints.
